Ontario woman dies in apartment blaze

An Ontario woman died early this morning when a fire apparently caused by food left burning on the stove completely gutted a two-story townhouse apartment at 1161 W. Vesta St.

The victim is Alice Jewell Taylor, 28, 1161 W. Vesta St., Ontario. She was employed in customer service at the General Telephone Co. office in Pomona. She was a 1966 graduate of Chaffey High School.

The woman's boyfriend, James Atchison, managed to escape from the burning apartment but was unable to bring the woman to safety.

Atchison was treated for smoke inhalation at the scene of the fire first reported about 2:45 a.m.

Fire Division Chief Fred C. Nelson said when firemen arrived at the apartment they found Atchison outside coughing and covered with soot. Firemen managed to bring the fire under control in 17 minutes pumping more than 500 gallons of water a minute just to gain entrance.

Firemen were aware that the woman was still inside. Their attempts to enter and bring her out to safety were unsuccessful.

Division Chief Rick Lebel said after talking to witnesses they learned that one of the neighbors, Thomas Nayman, was awakened by the smell of smoke about 2:30 a.m.

Nayman went outside to investigate, saying he could feel the heat from the adjacent apartment. He looked upstairs as Atchison, his face blackened by soot and ashes, opened the window. He was coughing.

Nayman said he asked Atchison if he was all right and Atchison said he had a fire and to call the fire department.

Nayman returned to his apartment to make the call when he heard a commotion next door. He said he could hear Atchison yelling, "Come on. Get out of there. Come on, Judy . . . Judy."

Another witness, Sue Brown, said she saw Atchison come out of the apartment on to the upstairs balcony saying "Judy is still in there."

She said Atchison seemed to be in a state of shock.

Lebel said that investigation revealed that the woman inside the apartment had apparently become disoriented after inhaling a great deal of smoke. She may have been unable to find her way to the window to get to safety. Firemen inside the apartment found the woman lying next to the bed near the closet.

Inside the closet there appeared to be claw marks on the wall. The woman apparently attempted to claw her way out of the flames and smoke.

Lebel said it was a real tragedy as the woman's life may have been saved if a smoke detector had been installed in the apartment.

The loss estimate in the fire was $50,090, with $40,000 to the structure and $10,000 to contents.

Jobless rate up to 8.1%

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unemployment jumped to its highest level in 11 months in November, rising from 7.9 to 8.1 per cent, while wholesale prices posted their third big consecutive monthly increase, the government said today.

The double-dose of economic news from the Labor Department provided fresh evidence of a sluggish economy and strong inflationary pressures.

The rise in unemployment heightened the likelihood that President-elect Jimmy Carter will push for tax cuts and other measures to boost the economy early in the new administration.

Carter has said he will consider recommending a tax cut or increased government spending aimed at creating jobs to get the economy moving if the slowdown continues much longer. In the three weeks since he said that, there has been little evidence that the slowdown is over.

The Labor Department said 200,000 more Americans joined the jobless rolls in November, raising the total to 7.8 million. The unemployment rate, at 8.1 per cent, was the highest level this year and the peak since last December when it stood at 8.3 per cent.

Arrest L.A. sniper after 12-15 shots from hotel roof

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A 26-year-old former mental patient who said he was trying to show how easy it is to buy a gun and endanger people has been arrested after firing 12 to 15 rifle shots from atop a downtown hotel.

No one was hit by any of the shots fired Wednesday by Jeffrey Thomas Paley of Oakland, who surrendered quietly to police atop the 12-story Cecil Hotel. He was arrested for investigation of assault with intent to commit murder.

'I never intended to shoot anyone," Paley told police.

He said he was just attempting to show how simple it was for anyone — even a former mental patient — to buy a gun and become a sniper.

He told officers he bought the rifle for $63 at a Hollywood gun shop after filing out a form that "nobody checks up on."

Kissinger's successor

Carter names Cyrus Vance as his secretary of state

PLAINS, Ga. (AP) — President-elect Jimmy Carter has chosen Cyrus R. Vance, a diplomatic and defense official in two past Democratic administrations, to become his secretary of state. Carter advised key senators of his choice today.

Carter disclosed his selection to members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee hours before a midafternoon news conference he called to announce it publicly.

Sen. Clifford P. Case of New Jersey said Carter telephoned to advise him of the Vance appointment to succeed Henry A. Kissinger. Case, the ranking Republican member of the committee that will consider the nomination, said he was greatly pleased with the selection.

There were indications Carter also advised other committee members of his choice of Vance, who served as Lyndon B. Johnson's world traveling troubleshooter and who tried unsuccessfully in 1968 to negotiate an end to the Vietnam war.

Case said he and Vance are longtime friends and former law partners. "I am sure he will carry out the duties of this enormously responsible position with dedication and great competence," the senator said.

Earlier, in an interview on the NBC-TV "Today" show, Carter declined to confirm the selection, but said he wasn't denying his choice is Vance. "I wouldn't want to deny Cyrus Vance or anyone else at this point," he said.

Carter said he would announce two appointments at the news conference. The second is expected to be that of Atlanta banker Thomas Bertram Lance as his budget director.

The president-elect said he expects to complete most of his Cabinet choices by Christmas.

He said he has been concentrating so far on the national security area, including the State Department, the Pentagon and the National Security Council.

He also mentioned the Treasury as an early priority.

"I think that by Christmas I would have the Cabinet fairly well identified," he said.

Vance, currently a New York lawyer, was a house guest at the Carter home here earlier this week, and the visit stirred speculation that Vance would be named either secretary of state or secretary of defense.

The nomination is subject to Senate confirmation.

Vance, 59, held a variety of posts under Presidents Kennedy and Johnson and was a ranking foreign policy adviser to Carter during the president-elect's campaign for the White House.

A native of Clarksburg, W. Va., Vance was a Navy officer and is a lawyer. He took his first government assignment in 1957 as a special counsel to a Senate subcommittee headed by Sen. Lyndon Johnson.

President John F. Kennedy named Vance in 1961 as Defense Department general counsel and he later became Kennedy's secretary of the Army. Under Johnson, Vance was elevated in 1964 to deputy defense secretary, the No. 2 post in the Pentagon. He resigned the Pentagon job in 1965.

Johnson often used Vance as a world-roving troubleshooter. Assignments from Johnson sent Vance to the Mediterranean during Greek-Turkish disputes over Cyprus, to South Vietnam at the time the war there was escalating, to the Dominican Republic during that country's 1965 civil war, to Panama during the 1964 Canal Zone riots and to South Korea in 1968 to assess what appeared to be rising threats from North Korea.

Johnson then named Vance, along with Averell Harriman, as part of the first negotiating team sent to Paris for peace talks with North Vietnam in 1968-69.

In a September speech to a high-level group that will recommend U.S. policies toward world problems, Vance said the United States has a good chance to reach solid economic agreements with Third World nations.

He urged that the United States be "reasonably forthcoming" in its future dealings with poor nations.

Carter's announcement today comes exactly one month after President Ford conceded defeat.

CARTER'S FIRST CABINET CHIEFS?

President-elect Jimmy Carter today told key Senate leaders that he had selected Cyrus Vance, left, as his new Secretary of State. Other indications were that Thomas B. Lance, right, would be the new budget director.

Episcopal Church rift

Other parishes will join rebellion, claims pastor

DENVER (AP) — The pastor of an Episcopal parish that has declared independence from the national church says other parishes will soon join a rebellion to protest liberalized church laws.

"It's due to the definite, gradual and rapidly increasing erosion of the faith," the Rev. James Mote said Thursday in an interview in the St. Mary's clergy house as an armed policeman patrolled the church next door against possible trouble.

"All we want is out, because we think the Episcopal Church is like the Titanic," he said.

The vote to secede from the church came at a parish meeting last Sunday. The congregation voted 197 to 79 to alter its articles of incorporation after it refused to admit the Rt. Rev. William C. Frey, bishop of the Colorado Diocese.

The Rev. Mr. Mote said that the immediate cause of the rebellion was the decision to allow the ordination of women priests, taken at the general convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States earlier this year.

But the priest also accused church leaders of "blessing abortion" and of "canonizing heresy" by giving bishops power to terminate marriages without regard to their validity.

"It's so incredible it just blows my mind," he said.

Bishop Frye denounced the vote to secede as illegal and has forbidden the Rev. Mr. Mote to perform official duties in the state. The bishop gave the Rev. Mr. Mote 30 days to leave the clergy house, announced plans to appoint a temporary vicar to take over the duties at St. Mary's and sent a letter to other priests in the diocese informing them of his actions.

USMC arrests KKK leader at Pendleton

CAMP PENDLETON (AP)— The U.S. Marine Corps has arrested a Marine who stepped forward earlier this week and identified himself as head of the Ku Klux Klan at this racially-troubled base.

"Cpl. Dan Bailey, who had publicly identified himself as a KKK officer, was taken into custody tonight for refusing to carry out orders to report to a new duty station," said a terse statement Thursday evening from a base spokesman.

Another statement was promised sometime Friday.

Bailey, 25, of Norfolk, Va., and the son of a retired Navy officer, has said he became the "exalted cyclop," or leader, of the KKK at the base after the Marines transferred Sgt. Randall Clouse to Dallas.

Clouse, who admitted he was the exalted cyclops, was among 16 Marines named on a list of alleged Klan members. The list was discovered after several black Marines staged a commando-style raid on a group of white Marines.

The attack occurred Nov. 13 in a barracks on the sprawling base, the nation's biggest Marine installation with a military population of 40,000.

The blacks have said they thought they were breaking up a KKK meeting, but investigators since reported it was the wrong room. The Corps said the six whites injured with clubs and screwdrivers were having a beer party.

The incident, however, led to the search of the entire barracks building and discovery of the purported KKK membership list, a high-powered civilian pistol and other weapons.

Report big U.S.-Israel F16 fighter plane deal

NEW YORK (AP) — The United States and Israel have agreed in principle for Israel to buy the new American F16 fighter airplane in a multibillion-dollar deal that could make Israel the most powerful nation in the Middle East, according to Newsday.

The Long Island newspaper reported in today's editions that details of the complicated agreement were still being negotiated, but sources were quoted as saying the Israelis hope eventually to buy 400 of the jets.

The plane is the main fighter aircraft of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and is called by U.S. Air Force officials "the fighter pilot's dream."

At current estimates, the deal for 400 airplanes costing $8.5 million each would be worth about $2.3 billion. Initially, Israel expects to buy 100 of the fighters and reduce costs by building more planes in Israeli plants under American license, Newsday said.

The purchase of 400 F16s would nearly double the size of Israel's air force, making it superior to the air forces of the Jewish state's two Arab neighbors, Egypt and Syria, the newspaper quoted sources as saying.

The sale, however, also could prompt the Arab states to demand more sophisticated aircraft from the Soviet Union, their main arms supplier, the newspaper said.

Israeli officials would not comment on the reported sale agreement but Israeli military officers are reportedly "highly enthusiastic" about the plane, Newsday reported.

It said it is uncertain whether the sale will be completed before President Ford leaves office, but it is not expected that the Carter administration would veto the deal.

The F16, built by General Dynamics, is designed to be a fast, lightweight fighter, capable of outmaneuvering opponents at medium altitudes.

Iran has contracted to buy 300 of the airplanes.

Another agricultural disaster feared: Where are the storms?

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - Another agricultural disaster is feared as an invisible barrier of high pressure is, for the second straight year, preventing the seasonal procession of storms from reaching California.

The state, and its agricultural community, count on late autumn and winter rainfall and snowfall to fill some 1,200 reservoirs, which are now down to historic lows from the last, and possibly continuing, drought.

California agriculture sustained $1 billion in losses this year, much of it traceable to the drought.

At the National Weather Service's instrument-packed forecast center in Redwood City, meteorologists are peering longingly at their dull weather charts. Usually, at this time of year, personnel are kept hopping keeping up with the southerly movement of storms ready to barge into California.

Asked when the balmy-weather high pressure system is likely to move on, meteorologist in charge Arthur Gustafson said:

"God only knows."

Pacific Gas & Electric Co said it had to buy $200 million of extra gas and oil this year to offset loss of hydroelectric power normally generated from its dams. PG&E said the cost would have been greater except that the Pacific Northwest had more than normal rainfall last season, permitting transfer of surplus power.

According to reports, rainfall to the north of California has been lighter than normal at this time, suggesting that a power shortage this winter could force utilities into power brownouts.

Conjecture aside, the water crisis is a real and present danger for the state's 17,000 cattle ranchers and dairymen. Many are reported selling off stock at bargain prices because they cannot afford to feed their animals.

"They're hurting and hurting badly," said Fred Herington, president of the California Farm Bureau. "There could be real disaster in the next 60 days on this."

In Northern California, which heavily supplies Southern California, reservoirs managed by the Bureau of Reclamation receive 9.5 million acre-feet of water in a normal rainfall year. Last year, they got only five million acre feet.

"It scares you to look at it," said Gordon Snow, official of the state Department of Food and Agriculture.

Battle over freeway route continues

PASADENA (AP) — The two cities warring over which route will complete the missing link between the San Bernardino and Foothill freeways have fired their final shots.

At a public hearing Thursday before officials from the California Department of Transportation (Caltrans), councilmen from South Pasadena and Los Angeles concentrated on which route will meet Caltrans' freeway design standards.

The hearing represented the final opportunity for public input into the environmental impact statement which will be prepared before Caltrans decides whether the Route 7 Long Beach Freeway will shoot through the center of South Pasadena or traverse its outer edges, nipping Los Angeles' territory.

Currently there is a gap in the freeway between Valley Boulevard in Alhambra and Del Mar Boulevard in Pasadena. Caltrans is under a court order to complete the environmental study before it completes the freeway.

"The city of Los Angeles has no particular self-interest in the completion of the Long Beach Freeway," said Councilman Arthur Snyder. "You can very well leave the freeway just the way it is."

Snyder indicated Los Angeles would not oppose completion of the freeway and was willing to sign a new freeway agreement with Caltrans (having rescinded the old one) if minimum standards for freeway design set forth by Caltrans are met.

He indicated, however, that the westerly route around the edges of South Pasadena would be too expensive if it met Caltrans' design standards.

South Pasadena Councilman Robert Veir's demanded that the state provide tax assistance to the city and the school district to make up for revenue-producing property that would be eaten by the freeway.

Veir also wanted to make sure that no interchange would be built in South Pasadena (to connect Route 7 with the Pasadena Freeway), that historical monuments would be preserved, and that the freeway would be constructed below ground level.

Watson must make a court appearance

LOS ANGELES (AP) — County Assessor Philip E. Watson must go to court Dec. 20 and show he has a good reason not to testify before the county supervisors.

Superior Court Judge Harry Hupp issued the order Thursday at the request of the county counsel. Watson's attorneys did not oppose the motion.

Watson walked out of the county supervisors' special marine assessment hearing last Monday because he was not satisfied with the terms of the questioning.

The assessor had demanded the right to cross-examine witnesses and to mount a defense and also wanted a list of the charges against him.

The supervisors are looking into allegations that Watson's office attempted to block the assessment of a yacht owned by a financial contributor to a number of Watson campaigns. Also at issue is whether many boats berthed in the county have escaped assessment.

Earlier Thursday, Watson announced a reorganization of his office aimed at strengthening the marine section to make sure all boats are assessed. He said the marine section will now report to the business division.

Watson noted, however, that marine assessments play a very small role in the county tax picture. He said they account for only one-fourth of one per cent of the taxable property in the county.

Cab results to air soon

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Trustees of the company which owns Yellow Cab are expected to announce shortly the result of negotiations to sell the financially-troubled taxicab company.

Insurance problems have caused a shutdown of Yellow Cab service in six major California cities, including San Diego, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Oakland, San Jose and Oceanside.

ALREADY BARE

Jim Whitehead, a regional superintendent of California state parks, has recommended the state designate this mile-long strip of Pacific shoreline as the state's first swimsuit optional beach. Officials of groups pushing for nude beaches say they estimate 200,000 bare bathers a month use this beach in San Diego during the summer, so the state may as well grant the stretch nude beach status.

'Swimsuit optional' beach recommended in San Diego area

SAN DIEGO (AP)—A leader of those who like to surf only in what nature gave them says he's "cautiously elated" that California soon could have the nation's first state-operated nude beach.

Jim Whitehead, regional superintendent of state parks, has asked Herbert Rhodes, director of the State Parks Department, to designate a mile-long stretch of beach as a "swimsuit optional" area.

Rhodes, contacted in Sacramento Thursday, said he had not received Whitehead's recommendation. Rhodes said he would study the memo when it arrives and will consult with others in the department before approving or rejecting the proposal.

Robert "Jake" Jacobs, chairman of the San Diego County Nude Beaches Committee, said proponents of nude bathing "have been discussing the exact possibility of opening this beach area with Rhodes."

"There is reason to make this beach a 'swimsuit optional' area," Jacobs continued. "Popularity dictates it should be done. In the summer, there are 200,000 nude bathers a month using state property anyway. They're already being provided with state lifeguards."

There was no indication from Rhodes when he might rule under the authority given him by the state Parks and Recreation Commission to decide swimsuit questions.

Jacobs said he was only cautiously elated because he feels designation of a state nude beach might prompt the City of San Diego to attempt closure of the country's only city-operated nudist beach—famed Black's Beach.

A city report last month labeled Black's as the most dangerous of the city beaches.

"It's unsafe because it hasn't been developed," said Jacobs. City figures show more than 113,000 nude bathers used Black's Beach in July, even though they had to climb down steep cliffs to get to it.

Black's Beach adjoins the state beachfront Whitehead has in mind for the state nude beach and Jacobs said the access problems at Black's would be solved. Bathers would no longer have to climb down the cliffs to the 900-foot-long stretch of sand.

San Diego City Manager Hugh McKinley backs the Whitehead proposal.

He had requested the state earlier in the year to approve nudity on the part of the state beach next to Black's, but was told in a letter from Rhodes past decisions had been "to rule against this type of special use."

Jacobs said regardless of Rhodes decision, his group will keep lobbying for more swimsuit optional beaches and will conduct demonstrations such as those of the past summer in which persons showed up on regular beaches for what were called "Barely Legal Swimsuit Contests."

Participants wore very little.

Congress pay hike proposal would cut out outside income

WASHINGTON (AP) — A special commission says members of Congress should get pay raises that would boost their salaries from $44,600 to $57,500 if they are willing to eliminate most of their outside earned income.

That carrot to the new Congress was proposed by the nine-member Commission on Executive, Legislative and Judicial Salaries in a report submitted to President Ford on Thursday.

"The President said he was very impressed with the recommendations," said commission chairman Peter G. Peterson, former commerce secretary in the Nixon administration, after meeting with Ford.

Ford will look over the report and make a final proposal to Congress in January on what pay hikes he thinks would be proper. The salaries then would automatically go into effect unless vetoed within 30 days by either the House or Senate.

Commission proposals include:

—Raising the salary of the House speaker, the vice president and the Chief Justice from $65,600 to $80,000.

—Upping the pay for Supreme Court associate justices from $63,000 to $77,500. Salaries of other federal judges would also be raised.

—Giving Cabinet members the lowest percentage of increase, from $63,000 to $67,500. The reasoning is that their "psychic rewards" are high and that Cabinet posts greatly enhance opportunities for securing a lucrative job in private business later.

The commission also said the president should have no trouble getting a very highly qualified person for a Cabinet post at $67,500.

Although Ford will recommend salaries for such jobs as the Cabinet, ambassadorships and White House staff, President-elect Jimmy Carter will actually name those who take over next year.

The total annual cost of salary increases recommended by the commission for 2,496 employes in the three branches of government amounts to $37.6 million.

But the ripple effect would mean more money for 20,365 other career federal workers whose paychecks are limited by the political pay scale.

Carter bitter toward steel, but won't impose controls

PLAINS, Ga. (AP) — President-elect Jimmy Carter said today the steel industry "missed a tremendous opportunity to help me as future president" by increasing prices 6 to 7 per cent. But he said he has no intention of imposing wage and price controls.

Refraining from the price increase would have been "a sign the business community is willing to make a sacrifice," Carter said. "The symbolic impact of not raising prices would have been noteable ... I was disappointed when they decided otherwise."

But the president-elect said wage and price controls should not be considered except in an extreme emergency. He declared that he has no intention over the next four years to impose them "unless there's a national emergency, which I don't anticipate."

Nonetheless, Carter declared: "I thought the steel companies missed a tremendous opportunity to help me as future president" and to help President Ford as well by refusing to roll back their price increase.

Carter made his statements in an interview on NBC's "Today" show.

As he spoke, there appeared to be no likelihood of intervention by the Ford administration to force a roll back. But an administration official said the market place could force steel producers to trim their price rise.

William Lilley III, acting director of the Council on Wage and Price Stability, said Thursday that the steel industry may be trying to "jump the gun" to protect against future wage and price controls. But he added there is reason to believe competitive market pressures could reverse the increase, which applies to flat-rolled steel that accounts for nearly half of all steel production.

"If I were a large-scale purchaser of flat-rolled steel," said Lilley, "I'd see that steel production was down, steel shipments down, that profits are highly sensitive to production. And I'd be in a strong bargaining position with the steel company."

Jody Powell, press secretary for President-elect Jimmy Carter, said the next administration was limited from taking any further action until after the Jan. 20 inauguration date. Carter turned down a steel company request to meet with him until after he takes office.

"So far as we can tell, we have exercised all options that are available to us," said Powell in Plains, Ga.

Through intermediaries, Carter has urged steel company executives to reconsider the price hike, which officials have warned could trigger a new round of inflation.

Lilley told a news conference the Council on Wage and Price Stability, which monitors inflation but has no power to impose controls, fears the steel price hikes could lead to higher prices in other basic materials and may prompt government intervention.

Sheet steel is used in automobiles and appliances, and the increases that took effect on Wednesday were expected to drive up the price of a car by $30.

A preliminary report by the Council on Wage and Price Stability said the increase accompanied higher production costs. But it said that in 1975 and the first 10 months this year "steel prices continued to rise more rapidly than the overall wholesale price index." It said the price of sheet steel products had increased 13 or 14 per cent in 1976.

Ford's B1 bomber go-ahead won't affect Carter decision

PLAINS, Ga. (AP) — President-elect Jimmy Carter said today the Pentagon's decision to begin production of the costly, disputed B1 bomber "doesn't really make much difference" in his consideration of whether to go on with it during the new administration.

The Ford administration awarded contracts on Thursday to start production of the warplane Carter once opposed, putting the incoming president in the position of having to cancel a project under way if he decides against it.

But Carter said in an NBC-TV "Today" show interview that the administration's move will not affect his thinking.

"I still have adequate time after the inauguration" to decide whether to go on with B1 production, he said.

"I'll reserve the right as I did during the campaign to either proceed with it or use my influence not to proceed ..." Carter said.

He said if the administration had not taken Thursday's action he would have had to decide by February whether to authorize production. Now he has until May to decide whether to stop it. Carter said either timetable would have been all right with him.

"It really doesn't make much difference as far as I can see that the Defense Department went ahead. . ." he said.

The Air Force awarded Rockwell International Corp., General Electric Co. and the Boeing Co. three-year contracts totaling $704.9 millon to build the first three B1s and prepare to build additional bombers. The total cost of the proposed fleet of 244 planes would be $22.9 billion.

Carter, who takes office Jan. 20, said during the campaign he saw no need to build the bombers now, without ruling out a possible change in his stand.

On Thursday, his press secretary Jody Powell said Carter will make a thorough review before making a decision. Powell quoted the president-elect as saying that the Ford Administration's approval of the contract was "completely consistent" with its previous policy.

Congress this year limited spending for the B1 production to $87 million a month through Feb. 1. By its action Thursday, the Pentagon approved a plan that would extend the limited funding until June 1, purportedly to give Carter more time to make his ultimate decision on the fate of the bomber. The government had previously invested $2.6 billion in development and testing of the B1.

Pentagon officials have said previously they expected Congress to go along with extending the temporary funding plan until June if Carter accepted that approach.

Defense Secretary Donald Rumsfeld, who announced the expected go-ahead after consulting with Ford, said the B1 was needed to counteract growing Soviet strength in strategic nuclear weapons.

Air Force Secretary Thomas C. Reed told a news conference, "It would be irresponsible not to initiate B1 production at this time."

The B1, about two-thirds the size of the B52 bomber, is a swing-wing, four-jet aircraft that is designed to fly between continents at supersonic speeds at high altitudes and then drop to tree top heights to penetrate air defense radar at high subsonic speeds.

It would be designed to withstand the effects of nuclear blasts and would be armed with air-to-ground missiles and bombs.

The Pentagon's latest decision was attacked by Sen. John C. Culver, D-Iowa, an opponent of the B1.

Spotlight on crime

A man with pink hair curlers in his hair and armed with a revolver robbed the El Merendero Restaurant in La Verne Thursday night.

Police said the manager, 43 years old, was closing the place at 1910 E St. just after 9 o'clock when he was met at the door by the man holding the gun. He was ordered back inside where he and two other employes were forced to lie on the floor while the robber took the cash. Then the gunman fled on foot.

Parking lot robbery

An Upland woman walking to her car at the Montclair Plaza parking lot was robbed at gunpoint Thursday evening by two men in a car.

The victim said one of the men sitting in the back seat of the car with the gun grabbed her purse containing a small amount of cash.

Man robbed in home

An Upland man told police that three persons came to his home at 1346 W. 15th St. about 9 p.m. Thursday, forced their way inside and robbed him at gunpoint.

Robert McMahan told officers that he knew one of the men and had opened the door. He said the robbers, a woman and two men in their 20s, forced their way into the home.

McMahan said one of the men, a white, 160 to 170 pounds pulled a gun and ordered him to lie on the floor. He said the other man, also a white with medium long hair and a bushy moustache, took his wallet from his back pocket.

4 sought in holdup

Ontario police this morning are searching for four men who robbed a 22-year-old Ontario resident after jumping him in the Thunderbird Bowling Alley parking lot at Mountain Avenue and Sixth Street Thursday night.

The victim said he and his roommate were walking to the car when four men described as Latins stopped them.

One victim said the men grabbed him and took his wallet containing a small amount of cash and fled on foot.

Arson suspect

Pomona fire inspectors arrested a 48-year-old woman on charges of suspicion of arson following a fire in an apartment complex Thursday at 1930 S. Park Ave., which caused an estimated $14,000 loss.

Still in custody this morning at Pomona City Jail was Mary Elizabeth Coleman of 1938 S. Park Ave.

Fire Chief John M. Fowlkes said the fire occurred in an apartment near the one where Mrs. Coleman lived which was occupied by her daughter, Vergie Coleman.

He said it appeared that a flamable liquid had been spread in the livingroom of the apartment and ignited.

Rumpled hat symbol at Cambridge services

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A rumpled brown hat sat atop the huge mahogany casket that bore the body of Godfrey Cambridge, as nearly 300 friends and fans gathered to say goodbye.

"That hat's his symbol," one of the mourners said. "It was like a trademark, you know."

The mourners, crowded into the Church of the Hills Chapel at Forest Lawn Mortuary, heard Cambridge eulogized Thursday by actor Roscoe Lee Browne.

In what he called a letter to his departed friend, Browne said:

"Within an hour or so after you took off so abruptly, we all sighed and sighed. Then we began to speak in a nonsequitor fashion and we were laughing and laughing. Dear Godfrey, that laughter was you, is you, will always be you."

Cambridge, 43, collapsed Monday at a studio just a few blocks from here while rehearsing for a role in the television movie "Victory at Entebbe." He died en route to St. Joseph's Hospital, victim of heart failure.

Among the casket bearers were Sidney Poitier, Theodore Bikel, David Groh and Raymond St. Jacques. Mourning Cambridge at the chapel and at graveside were Nancy Wilson, Clifton Davis, Ivan Dixon, Brock Peters, Jack Klugman, John Astin and Patty Duke Astin.

Cambridge punished by God—Amin

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — President Idi Amin says the death of American actor-comedian Godfrey Cambridge while impersonating the Ugandan dictator "is a good example of punishment by God," the Uganda government radio reported today.

Cambridge, 43, died of a heart attack in California Monday while working on the film "Victory at Entebbe," about the Israeli commando raid on Uganda's international airport last July.

Amin said God would punish all others "who are taking part in the fictitious film on the invasion of Uganda by Israel because God knows the invasion was wrong," the broadcast reported.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE
T.S.NO. Foreclosure No. 2
Sutkis-Weaberg

On December 13, 1976, at 10:00 A.M. CALIFORNIA LAND TRUSTEE CORPORATION, as duly appointed Substituted Trustee under and pursuant to Deed of Trust dated March 12, 1976, recorded March 18, 1976, as Inst. No. 2166, in book T10040, page 878, of Official Records in the office of the County Recorder of Los Angeles County, State of California, will sell at public auction to highest bidder for cash (payable at time of sale in lawful money of the United States) at the entrance to the County Courthouse, at 501 W. First First Street, in the City of Los Angeles, California, all right, title and interest conveyed to and now held by it under said Deed of Trust in the property situated in said County and State described as:

PARCEL 1:

Lot 10 of Tract No. 30577, in the County of Los Angeles, State of California, as per map recorded in Book 798 pages 51 to 64, inclusive, of Maps, in the office of the County Recorder of said county.

Except therefrom all oil, gas and other hydrocarbon substances and minerals now or at any time hereafter situated therein or thereunder or producible therefrom, as reserved in the deed from TRANSAMERICA DEVELOPMENT COMPANY, recorded March 29, 1963 in Book D-3955, page 185, Official Records of said county, and as modified by a quitclaim deed, recorded on May 20, 1970, as Instrument No. 1081, of Official Records of said county, which relinquished all rights to the use of the surface and subsurface to a depth of 500 feet from the surface of said land.

PARCEL 2:

A non-exclusive easement to be used in common with others for ingress and egress over all those areas shown upon the map of Tract No. 30577, as "private streets", and over all those areas shown upon the map of Tract No. 30093, recorded in Book 794, Pages 34 to 38, inclusive, of Maps, in the office of the County Recorder of said county, as "private streets", and over all those areas shown upon the map of Tract No. 22483, recorded in Book 790, pages 5 to 19, inclusive, of Maps, in the office of the County Recorder of said county, as "private streets", and over all those areas shown upon the map of Tract No. 30091, recorded in Book 789, pages 51 to 75, inclusive, of Maps, in the office of the County Recorder of said county, as "private streets", and over all those areas shown upon the map of Tract No. 24044, recorded in Book 789, pages 76 to 82, inclusive, of Maps, in the office of the County Recorder of said county, as "private streets", said easement to be appurtenant to and for the benefit of the lot described above in Parcel 1.

Excepting therefrom any portion which falls within the lines of Parcel 1 above described.

The street address and other common designation, if any, of the real property described above is purported to be: 23830 E. Falcons View, Diamond Bar, California.

The undersigned Substituted Trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the street address and other common designation, if any, shown herein.

Said sale will be made, but without covenant or warranty, express or implied, regarding title, possession, or encumbrances, to pay the remaining principal sum of the note(s) secured by said Deed of Trust, to-wit: $5,500.00, with interest thereon, as provided in said note(s), advances, if any, under the terms of said Deed of Trust, fees, charges, and expenses of the Substituted Trustee and of the trusts created by said Deed of Trust.

The beneficiary under said Deed of Trust heretofore executed and delivered to the undersigned a written Declaration of Default and Demand for Sale, and a written Notice of Default and Election to Sell. The undersigned caused said Notice of Default and Election to Sell to be recorded in the county where the real property is located.

Almanac

By Associated Press

Today is Friday, Dec. 3, the 338th day of 1976. There are 28 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1967, surgeons at a Cape Town, South Africa, hospital reported a successful human heart transplant, the first of its kind.

On this date —

In 1808, Madrid surrendered to French forces under Napoleon.

In 1818, the former Confederate President, Jefferson Davis, was put on trial for treason in the U.S. Circuit Court for Virginia.

In 1944, in World War II, American troops crossed the Saar River in Germany.

In 1964, police at Berkeley arrested 796 University of California students in removing demonstrators from the school administration building.

In 1970, the U.S. Senate rejected any new government spending for development of a supersonic transport plane.

In 1962, London was blanketed by one of the worst fogs in years. Scores of people died of sulphur dioxide poisoning before the fog lifted four days later.

In 1974, the U.S. Congress overwhelmingly overrode President Ford's veto of a bill to increase educational benefits for veterans who had served after the Korean War.

Ten years ago: Six U.S. supersonic jets were shot down during air raids close to Hanoi in North Vietnam.

Five years ago: India declared a state of emergency after West Pakistani warplanes attacked inside northwestern India, widening a conflict involving East Pakistan.

One year ago: Communists took full control of the Indochinese country of Laos and declared an end to the 600-year-old monarchy.

Thought for today: The cruelest lies are often told in silence. — Robert Louis Stevenson, 1850-1894.

Bicentennial footnote: Two hundred years ago today, General George Washington, retreating from the British, reported to the Continental Congress from Princeton, N.J., that he had managed to move much his army's stores and baggage across the Delaware River into Pennsylvania.

Blindness no handicap to her

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Peggy Pinder doesn't think blindness is so terrible. "It's like having brown hair," she says. And although she's only 23 years old, a list of her accomplishments makes it hard to believe she's handicapped.

Miss Pinder, of Grinnell, Iowa, is a magna cum laude graduate of Cornell College in Mount Vernon, Iowa. She's studying law on a scholarship at Yale University here.

Last August she was a delegate to the Republican National Convention in Kansas City, Mo., where she helped write the preamble to the party platform and seconded the nomination of vice presidential candidate Bob Dole.

She's bright and witty and wears an engaging smile. Her hair is long — and brown.

"I urge by the way I act and by the way I talk that other people accept me as a bundle, as a whole," she said in an interview. "The fact that I don't see," she added, does not mean "that I am somehow essentially marred."

Miss Pinder uses a cane to get around. Some of her textbooks are on tape. For other books, she hires readers with money from government grants. She takes notes in braille and types her briefs.

"I haven't been able to see since I was in ninth grade," she said. "But I never was able to see well and it began to deteriorate in the seventh grade after a couple of years and a couple of operations ...

"My brother has the same thing. It doesn't appear to be congenital and doesn't appear to be medically induced. It just appears to have happened. My brother has enough sight to get a driver's license. His condition deteriorated less quickly, and they caught it medically in time to prevent any further advance."

That brother is 25 and a graduate student in English at the University of Iowa. There are two other brothers and two sisters. Her father, Al Pinder, publishes the semi-weekly Grinnell Herald-Register.

She smiled when the conversation turned to Christmas vacation and going home. There's no man in her life, she said, but "I guess I sort of have a love affair with the Midwest and I really love Iowa and do miss it."

After law school, she said, she may take up private practice or go into politics, which runs in the family.

PUBLIC NOTICE

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON A PROPOSED REDEVELOPMENT PLAN AND OF THE ADOPTION AND AVAILABILITY FOR PUBLIC INSPECTION OF RULES IMPLEMENTING OWNER PARTICIPATION IN CONNECTION WITH SAID PROPOSED PLAN AND EXTENDING REASONABLE PREFERENCE TO PERSONS IN BUSINESS IN THE PROPOSED REDEVELOPMENT PROJECT AREA TO REENTER IN BUSINESS WITHIN THE REDEVELOPED AREA IN THE CITY OF POMONA

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that at 8:00 p.m. on December 13, 1976, at the Council Chambers, Pomona City Hall, Pomona, California, a public hearing of the Council of the City of Pomona will be held to consider a proposed redevelopment plan for the proposed project area within the City of Pomona, the specific boundaries of which are:

That certain parcel of land, in the City of Pomona, County of Los Angeles, State of California, being a portion of the Rancho San Jose as per map recorded in Book 2, pages 293 and 294 of Patents in the office of the County Recorder of said County, described as follows:

Beginning at the most northerly corner of Lot 4 of the Narnia Val Vista Tract as per map recorded in Book 36, pages 18 and 19 of Maps, in the said County Recorder's office; thence southwesterly along the westerly line of said lot and its southwesterly prolongation to the intersection with the center line of Val Vista Street (50 feet wide) as said street is shown on said Tract map, then northwesterly along said centerline to the intersection with the centerline of Dudley Street (shown as an unnamed roadway lying westerly of and immediately adjacent to the westerly line of lots 7 and 12 of said Tract); thence southerly along said centerline of Dudley Street and its southerly prolongation to the intersection with the centerline of the San Bernardino Freeway (Interstate Route 10) as said intersection is shown on the California State Department of Transportation Right-of-Way Map Number F1868 from San Dimas Avenue (Post Mile 42.40) to Dudley Street (Post Mile 44.2); thence westerly along said Freeway centerline to the intersection with the centerline of Garnesha Boulevard as said Boulevard existed on January 1, 1976; thence northeasterly along said last mentioned centerline to the intersection with the centerline of McKinley Avenue (formerly Walnut Avenue) as said Avenue and point of intersection shown on Los Angeles County Surveyor's Map Number B-1391 (Garnesha Boulevard from Arroyo Avenue to Walnut Avenue) on file in the office of the County Engineer of said County; thence southeasterly along said centerline of McKinley Avenue to the intersection with the northwesterly prolongation of the easterly line of that certain parcel of land described in the deed to Ora and Clair Elsequist and recorded on October 5, 1955 as document number 842 of Official Records in said County Recorder's Office; thence south 27 degrees 15' 40" West 214.09 feet more or less along said prolongation and said easterly line to the most southerly corner of said last mentioned parcel of land; thence south 49 degrees 37' 50" East 316.73 feet to the intersection with the westerly line of Lot 18 of the El Parliso Tract as per map recorded in Book 28, Page 50 of Maps in said County Recorder's Office, said last mentioned intersection being monumented with a 2" pipe as shown on the map for Tract Number 8147 recorded in Book 121, Pages 76 and 77 of Maps in said Recorder's Office; thence southwesterly along said westerly line of Lot 18 to the northwest corner of Lot 60 in Tract Number 9687 as per map recorded in Book 136, Pages 87 to 90 inclusive; thence continuing southwesterly along the west line of said Lot 60 to the southwest corner of said Lot 60, said southwest corner also being the most northerly corner of said Lot 4 of the Narnia Val Vista Tract and the point of beginning.

A general statement of the scope and objectives of the proposed Redevelopment Plan for the Mountain Meadows Project Area is as follows:

The general objective of the Mountain Meadows Redevelopment Plan is to eliminate blight within the Project Area. Specific objectives to be accomplished by this plan are:

1. The elimination of those conditions which are causing economic disuse and deterioration in Project area.

2. The assemblage and provision of land which is suitable for use of new residential developments which will improve economic conditions in the Project area.

3. The enhancement of the visual image of a major area of the City of which the community can be proud.

4. To establish landscaping and structural conditions on the reuses in accordance with modern and competitive development practices.

5. Providing for the assembly of parcels which are adequate in size, configuration and contain reasonable access to streets and utilities, so as to encourage new construction through private investment, thereby enhancing opportunities for the development of the Project area into a viable, master planned residential entity.

On the day and at the hour and place above specified, all persons having any objections to the proposed Redevelopment Plan do deny the existence of blight in the proposed Redevelopment Project Area or the regularity of any of the prior proceedings may appear and show cause why the Redevelopment Plan should not be adopted. Those persons who wish to express support for the Plan may also appear and be heard at that time.

Notice is also given that the Redevelopment Agency of the City of Pomona has adopted rules to implement the operation of owner participation in connection with said proposed redevelopment plan, and extending reasonable preference to persons in the proposed project area. Said rules are available for the public inspection at the Planning Department, Pomona City Hall, 505 S. Garey Avenue, Pomona, California.

Mr. Young was born June 5, 1933 in Buffalo, Minn., and had resided in Pomona for the past 15 years. He was employed with the Valley Custom Stamping Co., Pomona for the past six years.

Surviving are three sons, Lyle Ray, Raymond Jr. and Steven Ray, all of Ontario; a daughter, Lena Marie Young; five stepchildren, Patricia, Marsha, Teresa, Jo Ann and Richard; five sisters, Mrs. Virginia Nieto of Pomona, Mrs. Mary Ann Burch of Layton, Utah, Mrs. Maxine Bedell and Mrs. Beatrice Herrera both of San Leandro and Mrs. Sharon Corniellisun of San Lorenzo; and a half-brother, Joe E. Harger of Pomona.

Services were held today at 3 p.m. in Todd Memorial Chapel Pomona.

Roy Farrar

Roy W. Farrar of 366 W. La Verne Ave., Pomona died Thursday in San Antonio Community Hospital, Upland.

Mr. Farrar was born June 9, 1922 in Jonesboro, Ark., and had lived in the La Verne area since 1939. He attended Bonita High School. Mr. Farrar was owner of the Farrar Building Co. in La Verne. He was a member of the First Baptist Church, La Verne, and served with the U.S. Navy during World War II.

Besides his widow, Glenda, he is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Sharron Boepple of Bremerton, Wash., Mrs. Glenda Roach and Mrs. Pat Young, both of La Verne; two sons, Jimmy D. Cooper and Lucian Cooper Jr., both of Pomona; his mother, Mrs. Letha Farrar and a sister, Mrs. Armon Dacus, both of La Verne; and six grandchildren.

Services will be held Monday at 11:30 a.m. in Todd Memorial Chapel Pomona. Burial will be made in La Verne Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Pomona chapel Sunday until 9 p.m.

Helen Meng

Mrs. Helen B. Meng of 660 W. Bonita Ave., Claremont, died Thursday at her home.

Mrs. Meng was born June 19, 1893 in Darlington, Wis., and moved to California in 1952. She had lived in the Pomona area most of the time since.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Ralph Patterson of Claremont and Mrs. Joseph Klein of Madison, Wis., and 13 grandchildren.

Mass of the Christian Burial will be celebrated Saturday at 9:30 a.m. in Our Lady of the Assumption Catholic Church, Claremont. Shipment is being made to Madison. Todd Memorial Chapel Pomona is in charge of local arrangements.

Eva Larson

Mrs. Eva C. Larson of 1789 Bonnie Brae Ave., Pomona, died Wednesday in Pomona Valley Community Hospital.

Mrs. Larson was born March 24, 1902 in Eureka, Kan., and moved to Pomona in 1935 from Downey.

Surviving is a son, Robert H. Willis of Spring Valley; two sisters, Mrs. Beth Stires of Montclair and Mrs. Dorothy Maxwell of Upland; and a brother, Wilbur Bane of Glendora.

Services will be held Monday at 10 a.m. in Todd Memorial Chapel Pomona. The Rev. Paul B. Ryan of the First Baptist Church, Pomona, will officiate. Services will conclude in the chapel and private internment made in Forest Lawn Glendale.

Friends may call at the Pomona chapel Sunday from noon until 9 p.m.

Willard Garner

Willard W. Garner of 595 E. Sixth St., Pomona, died Wednesday at his home following a long illness.

Mr. Garner was born March 24, 1913 in San Dimas and lived there until moving to Pomona in 1950.

Surviving is a daughter, Mrs. Bonnie L. Zwang of Coalinga; two sisters, Mrs. Gladys E. Lehman of Pomona and Mrs. Nelma Duncan of Temecula; and a brother, Telford of Montclair.

Services will be held Monday at 11 a.m. in Pomona Cemetery.

Gets 6 months, fined $10,000 in fraud case

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A former Toyota executive has been sentenced to six months in jail and fined $10,000 for tax fraud involving kickbacks from persons seeking Toyota dealerships.

The sentence was handed out Monday to John Wesley Garrett, 57, of Oakhurst by U.S. District Judge Robert Takasugi.

Last month, Garrett pleaded guilty to two counts of income tax evasion, admitting he took $94,400 in kickbacks in 1970 and 1971 in return for making favorable recommendations to other Toyota officials on the awarding of dealerships.

Last week, the former national sales manager for Toyota was placed on three years' probation and fined for accepting money from Garrett.

Great Lakes shivering in subzero frost

By The Associated Press

Subzero temperatures were recorded across most of the Great Lakes early today as frigid Canadian air continued to move into the region.

New record lows for the date were set in several cities, including Cleveland, South Bend, Ind., and Lansing, Mich.

Snow was reported across the eastern portions of the Dakotas, the Great Lakes and Maine.

Arctic air plunged temperatures across New York State toward or below zero today, putting an icy glaze on new snow in most parts of the state. With high wind gusts, the National Weather Service said the chill factor was equivalent to 30 or 40 below.

A snow storm that began Monday in western New York finally stopped Thursday, after leaving up to four feet of snow.

Buffalo received 29 inches of new snow during the storm, bringing the season's total of 49, more than half of a usual full winter's supply.

A man and a woman died while shoveling snow in Buffalo Thursday, raising the storm-related death toll to eight.

Most of the city's schools and colleges were closed Thursday, and stores and plants did less work than usual.

New York State's weather map resembled soccer scores more than a temperature report early today.

It was Buffalo 6, Rochester 7, Syracuse and Albany 5, Watertown one below zero and Binghamton zero. New York City had 17.

The weather service said the mercury would move no higher than the teens in most areas of New York today, and fall rapidly to zero in southern New York and to 15 below in northern spots tonight. A warming trend is expected Saturday, with highs in the 20s.

Copped cup

The America's Cup, originally called the Hundred Guinea Cup, was offered by the Royal Yacht Squadron of Great Britain for a race around the Isle of Wight. The cup was won by the "America," a 100-foot schooner from New York, but was donated in 1857 for a perpetual international challenge competition.

Ride-a-thon slated Saturday in Chino

The Chino Future Farmers of America will hold its second annual March-of-Dimes ride-a-horse-thon Saturday.

The 14-mile trail ride will be held at the Chino Rancho Ride grounds starting at 8 a.m. There will be refreshments and other entertainment. Riders may camp overnight, free of charge, at the Chino Junior Fairgrounds, Central and Edison avenues.

Persons wanting to sponsor riders or those needing more information may call Gerri Graybill at 628-8852 or Tom Kane at Chino High, 628-1201.

Proceeds from the event will go toward to the March-of-Dimes for research leading to the prevention of birth defects. Last year the FFA raised nearly $2,000 from the ride-a-thon.

Begonia seeds

An ounce of begonia seeds may sell for as much as $3,500. It takes more than a million of the minute seeds to make an ounce.

'Norway' travel film due

"Norway", a color travel film by Ed Lark, will be shown Monday at 7:45 p.m. in the Pomona School District Education Auditorium, 800 S. Garey Ave.

The film focuses on Norway's natural beauty including its many fjords, 300-year old grass-roofed hotels, a trip on a coastal steamer, Norwegian winters, Grieg's favored Hardanger Fjord as well as trolls and folklore.

ED LARK

'Alice' opens at 8:30 tonight

The Lewis Carroll fantasy, "Alice in Wonderland," opens at 8:30 tonight at Valley Community Theater, Pomona. (An earlier announcement set curtain time at 8 p.m.)

"Alice" is a production of VCTeens, youth wing of VCT. The play will be staged Fridays and Saturdays for three weekends. Reservations can be made at 622-6954.

Pomona School Board expels three students

The Pomona School Board recently took action to expell three students from the district and readmit one previously expelled student to Park Avenue Continuation High School.

The three expelled students, said Supt. Charles Carpenter, all evidenced a continued pattern of behavioral and disciplinary problems for at least a year. In some cases, said Carpenter, the final act which brought about the expulsion might not have been an offense worthy of expulsion in and of itself, but was deemed so by the board when considered against the student's record.

The expelled students included a 14-year old Emerson Junior High School student who had made continued threats of bodily harm and property damage against staff members at the school and two 15-year old students at Ganesha and Pomona High Schools who had assaulted other students.

The readmitted student had attended the district's pilot house provided under the Emergency School Aid Act (ESAA) to undergo more extensive and individualized counseling. It is expected that the three other expelled students will attend the ESAA pilot house.

Energy use

In the next 25 years, the world is expected to consume an amount of energy equal to all the energy used by man in recorded history, National Geographic says.

Pomona's Christmas parade slated Saturday

Progress Bulletin

Pomona, California ■ Friday, December 3, 1976

Bands, horses, floats to travel along Holt

Snappy bands, prancing horses and glittering floats will highlight Pomona's Christmas parade Saturday.

The annual event is set to begin promptly at 6 p.m. on Holt Avenue. It will proceed east along Holt from Huntington Boulevard to Palomares Street.

Donald Duck will be grand marshal. The band from Ganesha High School will be host band.

Three division marshals will be Burt Hooton of the Los Angeles Dodgers, the Los Angeles County Fair queen, and "Superfly" Albert Sandoval.

Following is the line-up:

Caltrans to study Base Line Road traffic load?

By GEORGE MacLAREN
PB Staff Writer

A Caltrans official informed concerned parents and school officials Thursday that he will be recommending that Caltrans perform a "full-blown" traffic study of Base Line Road from the San Bernardino County line westward to where the state road meets Foothill Boulevard in La Verne.

Speaking at a meeting of Claremont School District PFA officials and city and school district representatives at the school district office, Caltransstaff member Paul Cuomo said that such a study if approved would not be completed for 1½ years.

The meeting had been called because increased traffic on Base Line Road, which is State Route 30, has made crossing that street hazardous for school children.

Julie Lannom, chairman of the Sumner PFA safety committee, chaired the meeting and provided information on the efforts she has expended since September in trying to get some type of signalization along Base Line Road to enable Sumner School children to cross safely.

Mrs. Lannom said that she contacted California Highway Patrol officials and discovered that only two officers are available to patrol highways from the county line to the City of Industry.

Mrs. Lannom said that she would like to have officers ticket speeders on Base Line Road where the speed limit is 40 m.p.h.

Children attending Chaparral, Condit and Sumner elementary schools and Claremont High School must cross Base Line Road to and from school.

Mrs. Lannom explained that Sumner's problem is unique because the school is in the county, and communication with Supervisor Peter Schabarum's office is not encouraging.

Also involved in the school safety problem is Webb School where Art House said 240 students must use Base Line Road to get to school.

A parent, Mrs. Molly Paulson, said that she counted 886 cars going east and west on Base Line Road between 7:45 and 8:45 a.m. on a school day at Mountain Avenue where Condit children cross.

Mrs. Lannom said that 182 students living in the county area between Claremont and La Verne use Base Line Road.

Cuomo said that the Caltrans study would include a traffic count as well as safety observations. "We can't justify the widening of Base Line Road without a traffic count," Cuomo explained.

Cuomo encouraged residents to use the telephone and to write letters to Caltrans, and county and state legislators about the safety problems along Base Line Road. Mrs. Lannom reported that for the first 11 months of 1976 the accident count is above that of 1975 when 27 accidents were recorded along Base Line Road in the school district.

"Can we look forward to relief by next fall?" Mrs. Lannom asked.

"I can't assure that," Cuomo replied.

The City ocouncil has followed the recommendations of the city Traffic Safety Commission in urging that Caltrans signalize intersections along Base Line Road, and that the speed limit be lowered.

Santa to arrive at Chino center

Santa Claus will arrive Saturday at 11 a.m. at the Country Fair Center in Chino aboard a helicopter with candy canes for all the youngsters to greet him.

Santa will be at the shopping center the next two weekends from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and from 3 to 7 p.m. daily from Dec. 13 to Christmas.

UP AND IN

Michael Barragan, 5, puts up his jump shot as Ricky Horn, also 5, gets set for the rebound. Both of the youngsters are in the Pomona Valley YMCA's "peewee" basketball program for kids 5 and 6. The YMCA also has a league for 7 to 12-year-olds. Games are played on Saturdays beginning Dec. 11. A tryout will be held this Saturday at 9 a.m. All boys will be placed on a team. Cost is $3 for members and $6.50 for non-members.

At an 'informational workshop'

Expo official faces hostile crowd in Claremont

By MAE TATE
PB Staff Writer

Bill Welsh, vice president of Expo 81 Corp., fielded questions from a hostile, oftentimes rude, audience at an "informational workshop" Thursday night sponsored by the Claremont Civic Association and Claremont League of Women Voters.

The purpose of the meeting was to provide information about the proposed international exposition at Ontario Motor Speedway in 1981, but it soon dissolved into attacks on the exposition idea and planning and numerous "what ifs" based on fear and supposition.

The panel, presenting information and opinion, was comprised of Welsh, Claremont Councilmember Eleanor Cohen, Berger Nielsen, manager of the Ontario Chamber of Commerce, Montclair Councilman Tom McClure and Freeman Allen, a member of the advisory commitee for Southern California Air Pollution Control Board and chairman of the Sierra Club, Southern California Region, Air Quality Committee.

The theme of the proposed exposition is "People to People: Pathways to Understanding." That theme was not to exemplify the mood of the majority of those attending the meeting in Taylor Hall, Claremont.

Welsh prefaced quotes of economic statistics from the Economic Research Associates with the statement "We want to do something to stimulate the economy of Southern California."

The figures showed $38,500,000 being generated in additional state and local taxes; more than 16,000 persons being employed prior to, during and after the exposition; and $1.7 billion on the total economy of Southern California.

He said that Expo 81 Corp. was attempting to remedy the mistake of bad public relations through meetings with numerous groups and officials in the valley.

Mrs. Cohen remarked that originally she "slept" through the idea of an exposition in Ontario because "it was so absurd that it couldn't possibly happen." She said she suddenly realized it could be a reality this fall and decided to oppose it because of general concerns about air quality, transportation, economic questions including employment and cost to the taxpayers, funding and the difficulty in getting information.

Many of her questions were "what ifs," attempting to foresee problems before they occurred.

"Will people move into the area seeking jobs? Will there be a precipitative drop in jobs after the expo and will we have more people here unemployed? Will people move to the area with children? Where will they attend school? What kind of jobs will be provided? What are the characteristics of the unemployment picture in Ontario?" she asked.

McClure likened the expo promoters as Harold Hill, the glib con man in the musical "The Music Man, who were going to give valley residents an Expo 81 whether they were ready or not. He raised several social and envirnomental questions regarding the treatment of 176 extra tons of garbage daily; municipal services for fire and police; the cost benefits for other municipalities in the area; and the type of development for land in the West End.

Allen quoted more statistics to illustrate the air pollution problems in the valley that makes emphysema, asthma, bronchitis and other lung and breathing diseases major problems. The exposition would further add to this and increase medical bills, shortness of life, lack of producivity because people aren't working and human suffering, he said.

"The average man on the street will see very little of that $1.7 billion," Allen said.

Nielsen quoted the unemployment rate for Ontario alone as 11.5 per cent. The exposition would help remedy this, he said. Traffic congestion would not be severe because it would be staggered at different times along the San Bernardino, Pomona and Devore freeways.

During the question and answer period, Allen admitted that smog levels "will be as high after the fair as before the fair."

Most of the comments during the audience participation were negative, ranging from calling putting people to work "greed" to criticizing the attempt to establish a communication network of local people as "advertising for expo".

When Eldon Cox tried to soothe ruffled feathers and calm the hostile audience by asking that people be more broad-minded and less negative and look for ways to help, he was hooted down.

"Meet with us and tell us what the concerns are as you see it. Let's stick to the facts and not deal with what ifs. Join with us in discussing the plans," Welsh said.

Shot by Ontario police

Brahma bulls escape Upland pen

Ontario police along with Upland Meat Packing Co. employes were forced to shoot five large Brahma bulls that broke out of a pen at the packing house on Baker Street west of Grove Avenue in Upland and wandered south into Ontario early this morning.

Police said that several motorists reported seeing two groups of the large bulls in the area of Eighth Street near Baker Avenue, about 6:30 a.m.

When police arrived in the area they found about a dozen meat packing company employes , one armed with a rifle, attempting to stop the animals.

One of the employes shot one of the bulls on Baker Street just north of Eighth. A short time later, police went to the 1200 block of Alvarado Street where they found three more of the bulls wandering through the front yard of the homes. Officers were forced to shoot the three animals for fear they may charge.

The fifth bull was found by meat packing company employes and shot at Fifth Street and Grove Avenue. The animal carcasses were placed in a truck and returned to the packing house.

Former L.A. policeman committed to CIM for study

A veteran of eight years' service on the Los Angeles Police Department has been committed to the California Institution for Men at Chino for a 90-day period of diagnostic study prior to being sentenced for shooting a private detective May 10.

The man, Victor Lee Denham, 30, of Walnut, was ruled guilty of assault with a deadly weapon Oct. 6 in a non-jury trial before Pomona Superior Court Judge David F. Cunningham.

Tuesday, Cunningham ordered the examination before he sentences Denham. That sentencing was scheduled for March 3.

Denham was convicted in the wounding of Robert J. Petrasich, 26, of Monterey Park, whom he found in bed with his former girlfriend in her Rowland Heights home that morning, testimony indicated.

Possible short may have caused warehouse fire

A possible short in the main electrical panel may have caused a fire at the Foothill Beverage Co. warehouse under construction in the 2800 block of S. Reservoir Street in Pomona Thursday causing an estimated $50,000 damage.

Fire Chief John M. Fowlkes said two electricians from a private firm were working at the panel when the explosion type fire occurred, burning one workman.

Electrician Harry Gillian was treated at Chino General Hospital for arm and face burns, Fowlkes said, and electrician Charles Dalool was given oxygen by firemen when he complained of chest pains.

Loss estimates were $30,000 to property and $20,000 to contents of the warehouse, intended for refrigerated beer storage which is about three-quarters complete, Fowlkes said.

The fire was reported at 12:57 p.m. Firemen arrived to find the electrical panel fully involved.

Cucamonga woman to be arraigned today on felony child abuse charge

A 30-year-old Cucamonga woman will be arraigned this afternoon in San Bernardino County Municipal Court on charges of felony child abuse following the Oct. 31 birth of her twin sons with heroin withdrawal symptoms.

Margaret Reyes, 10220 24th St. will be arraigned before Municipal Court Judge Theodore Krumm following the filing of formal charges by the San Bernardino District Attorney's office on Wednesday.

The woman was arrested Nov. 5 following her release from the San Bernardino County Medical Center where the two infants, Victor M. and Ray A. Delacerda, were born. The time between the arrest and the formal filing of charges was because of the unusual nature of the case and time required to research law, a spokesman for the district attorney's office said. The woman has been free on $6,000 bail.

The infants are being cared for by the woman's sister. They appear to be in good health except for the heroin withdrawal symptoms, said officials.

Authorities said the mother was warned several times by a welfare department nurse that heroin use could endanger her unborn children, but that the woman didn't seek treatment.

Sending food deters efforts

We seem to be in a period of remission from what could yet be mankind's terminal illness — uncontrolled population growth, with accompanying widespread and chronic starvation.

While world population is far from stabilized, growth rates have been declining in the underdeveloped countries and experts are revising their former projections that the number of people on the globe will double by the year 2000.

As for food, the United States is "awash in an ocean of excess wheat," say Department of Agriculture economists, and they see little prospect of the Soviet Union or any other country buying enough in 1977 to bolster the currently depressed price for farmers.

They predict that U.S. wheat storage, already the largest since the 1960s, could grow to almost a billion bushels by next June.

Nevertheless, the United States, Canada and, to a lesser extent, Australia remain the world's only producers of surplus grain (a fact which continues to be staunchly ignored by the proponents of Socialist economies).

Thus one or two disastrous growing seasons in the developing world could revive the temporarily abated controversy over the extent of the moral obligation of Americans to feed the world's starving and, if necessary, to lower their own standards of living to do so.

Noted British economist Barbara Ward recently pointed out that at least one-third of the increased world demand for food in the past 10 years has come from North Americans, Europeans and Russians eating steadily more high-protein food. Grain is fed to animals and poultry and eaten as steaks and eggs.

In real energy terms, she says, this is about five times more wasteful than eating grain itself. The result is an average American diet of nearly 2,000 pounds of grain a year, compared to only 400 pounds for the average person in India.

The implication of this and similar statements is that if the people of the richer countries used less grain — largely by reducing the consumption of livestock products — the poorer people of the world would be better fed.

Such a conclusion is "clearly incorrect," contends D. Gale Johnson, provost of the University of Chicago and professor of economics.

Those who advocate reducing grain consumption in high-income countries fail to understand the close connections between demand and supply affecting food production, he says. "It is simply not possible to reduce demand and assume that supply will remain the same."

From 1968 through 1971, in fact, producers in the major exporting countries were restricting grain production because there was not enough demand for grain at acceptable prices. If domestic use of grain had been reduced, much less would have been invested in agricultural research and the production capacity of the major exporting countries would be much lower today than it actually is.

Not only this, says Johnson, but past experience indicates that large-scale food aid contributes relatively little to the food supply of developing countries. Such aid has served as a powerful deterrent by permitting recipient governments to lower the priority that they gave to agricultural research and investment, and farmers were adversely affected by lower prices than would have existed.

Improvement in per capita food consumption in the developing countries will depend primarily upon increasing food production in those countries, says Johnson, and on this score he is "cautiously optimistic" that the people of the developing world will be better fed a decade hence than they are now.

"Agriculture is one of the world's most dynamic activities," he says. "Farmers, even those who are illiterate or who have little education, have demonstrated that when there is a profitable opportunity, they will seize it."

Joyce Hifler

Think on these things

To want to be understood is probably one of our greatest desires. To be understood in every thought, word, and action is not the most desirable — for to be understood completely would be to reveal our limitations. When someone knows our limitations then interest in understanding us wanes considerably.

Why should we use the excuse that someone does not understand us when we do not understand us? This is one of the mysteries of daily living — the element, the development, the getting to know who we are and what makes us run. Frequently, other people know us better than we know ourselves. They can see through many of our pretenses — and so what if they are wrong? It means they do not understand and they should not understand in total.

Questions for appointees

Dear Editor:

President-elect Jimmy Carter will be assuming most of the responsibility for appointing many important high level government posts in the coming weeks — indeed a responsibility requiring tact, discretion, objectivity, sensitivity, anticipation, and sound judgment with foresight.

It will be especially interesting to see what becomes of the present Secretary of State, one of the most powerful and influential men in the world.

Henry Kissinger holds many secrets and a great deal of privileged information which will influence future decisions, no matter the next role he assumes. This maverick who correctly says that the most potent aphrodisiac is power, will not accept any lower station which would diminish his love life. In my opinion, it would be a good idea if it were mandatory for appointees to government positions be required to answer the following:

1. Do you or any of your immediate family have financial interests which would be directly or indirectly enhanced by your new influence?

2. Do you or any of your immediate family suffer from a moderate to heavy drinking problem?

3. Are you or any of your immediate family using marijuana, or any addictive drugs?

4. Are you or any of your immediate family exercising sexual deviations which would be medically classified as homosexual, bisexual, lesbian, or of a perverted nature?

Failure to disclose the truth to these questions would call for immediate termination. Good, clean, honest help is hard to find these days.

Influence peddling at the top

WASHINGTON — In return for a few favors, Sen. James Eastland, D.-Miss., the dean of the Senate, used his tremendous political influence in an attempt to bail out a company on the verge of bankruptcy.

According to sworn statements to the Securities and Exchange Commission, the senator pressured the Agriculture Department's Farm Home Administration to fund a modular home factory in his home state. The beneficiary was to be Stirling Homex, Inc., which is now bankrupt.

The company had sold millions of dollars in stock even though its executives knew the firm was on the financial ropes. By 1971, Homex had turned to the Farm Home Administration for funds to avoid bankruptcy. The plan was to have the agency foot the bill for modular home construction in Mississippi. But the agency decided not to bail out the company, because Homex's units cost too much to build.

Homex then turned to Eastland for help. The company ferried the senator around in its corporate jet. It also rehired for a fat $50,000 a year an Eastland crony, Thurston Little, who had been fired earlier, according to the testimony.

A former Homex vice president, Harold Yanowitch, told SEC investigators that "Sen. Eastland (would) interfere in the Department of Agriculture along with (former White House aide) Fred LaRue into getting this project to fly."

Yanowitch also told SEC investigators that Eastland insisted that his old pal Little "act as an intermediary between the company and Sen. Eastland."

Little told us that Eastland did not know that he was on the Homex payroll until after he was hired. Little also contended that Yanowitch was trying to "smear the senator."

According to the SEC testimony, Eastland also promised to lobby former Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz and ex-Attorney General John Mitchell on Homex's behalf. As chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, Eastland wielded tremendous influence with Mitchell. Butz and Eastland are so close that when the senator was late for the agriculture secretary's swearing-in ceremony, Butz delayed the event until Eastland arrived, according to the testimony.

Yanowitch said he had good reason to be awed by Eastland. In another Stirling Homex-connected project, Eastland closed the deal with a single telephone call.

But this time Eastland did not come through as expected, and the firm went bankrupt in July, 1972. Homex officials have since been indicted on multi-million-dollar stock fraud charges.

Eastland admitted that he talked to Butz, but the senator insisted that he spoke to the agriculture secretary only because the proposed factory would be located in his home state. "All I asked," Eastland told us, "was that (Butz) personally go into it . . . Butz said it cost too much. So I said I couldn't approve it myself."

He also confessed that he used Homex's jet, but only twice, not on a "constant" basis as the SEC testimony charges. Little supported Eastland, maintaining that the senator did not use the jet more than "two or three times."

In addition, Eastland denied that he ever discussed the construction deal with Mitchell. But in the sworn testimony, Yanowitch claims that Eastland "said to me 'I will get John Mitchell into this thing and . . . we should be able to make this thing happen.' Now these were his words to me."

Yanowitch contends that if Eastland did not talk to Mitchell, LaRue did. In fact, it has been reported that in early 1972, LaRue and Mitchell flew to Miami in the Homex jet.

"Fred LaRue, Thurston Little, Rubel Phillips (a prominent Mississippi Republican) and the senator were intimately involved in . . . pushing this project along," the former Homex vice president swore.

In return for LaRue's help, Homex allegedly tried to get a $75,000 bank loan for him. They also flew him around the country in their jet and paid part of the rent on LaRue's Washington apartment, Yanowitch stated.

As for Eastland, he received "constant use of our airplanes . . . Thurston (Little) would call from Washington and say, 'I am with the senator now and we want to talk about your project some more.'" Little would then order Homex to "send a jet to Washington so it could take the senator . . . down to Mississippi."

"I would say the senator had use of our planes well over a dozen times at least," Yanowitch said. "It cost a lot of money to send a plane down . . . We thought the project was going to be moved along by (Eastland's) interceding for us. That was the purpose of doing it."

Footnote: Little told us that he was not aware that Eastland contacted Butz. It was former Agriculture Undersecretary Phil Campbell whom Eastland talked to, Little insists. He claims that Eastland's memory is not as good as it once was.

Yes, Gwendolyn, you might say that people who play hop-Scotch are skipping the next drink.

When you're 20, you'd like to tell the boss where to get off; after 40, you keep listening for him to call the end of the line.

Today's kids will fondly remember pies like Mother used to thaw.

If the phone rates go much higher, yelling at others is going to get mighty popular.

A clean desk is a sign that you'll find your address book in the paper baler.

Of course we like our work — that's why we do so little of it, to make it last.

Doc Peirsol

Just in jest

The masterminds in municipal governments throughout the United States have apparently reached that point of frustration where they are willing to try almost anything in order to save their cities for posterity.

In San Francisco, in an effort to keep frightened citizens from migrating to the safety of the boondocks in order to avoid muggings, they are discussing the advisability of assigning policemen to all city buses and streetcars.

In Washington, D.C., following the Department of Human Resources report that there were more abortions than births last year in our nation's capitol, and that 85 per cent of those abortions were paid for by the U.S. government, they are worrying over who is going to pick up the tab if taxpayers grow tired of footing those abortion bills.

In Austin, Tex., in order to encourage more students to enroll at the University of Texas and thereby help defray the costs of higher education, courses have been made available in juggling, Frisbee throwing, tea leaf reading, tatting and palmistry.

But is in New York that the city fathers are really approaching the problem of civic betterment with realistic, unemotional practicality.

In order to save that financially distressed metropolis, they are now considering ways and means by which they can first legalize and then tax prostitution.

Sacramento scene

State's first lady senator

By EARL G. WATERS

A momentous event will occur next week with the convening of the Legislature. For the first time in California history a woman will be seated in the Senate. She is Rose Anne Vuich of Dinuba.

In addition to this singular distinction she is also the first Democrat to be sent to the Senate by Tulare County in 50 years despite the fact that county has been the most heavily Democratic registered county in the state for many years.

Not that there is something new about women in the Legislature. But heretofore they have been successful only in gaining seats in the Assembly.

The first came in a bunch soon after women were granted the right to vote. In 1918 four women were elected to the Assembly. All served eight years except one who stayed around only four. Her seat was taken by another woman Eleanor Miller of Pasadena, who retained the job for 20 years.

In 1927 she became the lone woman legislator until Sarah Kellogg of Los Angeles arrived in 1931. She served only one term after which Miller again became the sole female solon until the arrival of Jeannette Daly of San Diego. Both Miller and Daly left in 1942 but two women, Pauline Davis of Portola and Kathryn Niehouse of San Diego replaced them.

They were joined in 1951 by Dorothy Donahoe of Bakersfield. Mrs. Niehouse was replaced by Wanda Sankary of San Diego in 1955 but she served only one term.

Mrs. Donahoe died in 1960 and Mrs. Davis served alone until 1967 when March Fong and Yvonne Brathwaite were elected. Fong became secretary of state and Braithwaite went to Congress. Mrs. Davis retired this year after 24 years. In the meantime two others, Leona Egland and Teresa Hughes, had taken their seats in the Assembly and will now be joined by three more, Carol Hallet of Atascadero, Maxine Waters of Los Angeles and Marilyn Ryan of Palos Verdes.

Vuich, a Dinuba accountant and farmer, who is rejoicing in being the first woman senator, may not know it but she was almost deprived of that honor 26 years ago by Mildred Younger, wife of Attorney General Evelle J. Younger.

She challenged Senator Jack B. Tenney and unseated him in the primary in 1950. In the general election Democratic nominee Richard Richards, aided no little by supporters not normally found backing Democrats but who couldn't stomach the idea of a woman senator, beat Younger by a mere 17,000 votes out of 1.5 million cast.

Tenney, who had gained earlier fame as the writer of "Mexicali Rose," came to Sacramento in 1937. While serving his second term in the Legislature he was overthrown as president of the Los Angeles Musicians Union, a happening he blamed upon the "radicals." He shortly thereafter joined with Sam Yorty, later to become mayor of Los Angeles, in forming the UnAmerican Activities Committee.

An honest legislator, Tenney became so obsessed in chasing "subversives" that he was seeing "reds" everywhere he looked. The obsession grew into hate crusades and he joined with characters like Gerald L.K. Smith in denouncing persons and groups. He dug his political grave when he took on the Catholics, Jews and Masons all at the same time, distributing hate literature from his Senate office.

Times have changed and the view that the Senate is the exclusive domain of men has disappeared. But it is interesting to note that Vuich, despite the various women's lib movements, did not base her campaign on the fact she was a woman. Rather she ran a straightaway campaign as a Democrat and as a Tulare County resident against an outsider from Fresno. Naturally, as the first woman Senator she will be watched closely but all reports indicate she will be a credit to the Senate.

Our Man in Washington

A gamble with our conscience

By TERRY WADE
PB Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Gary Jack Gilmore has brought America's attention, perhaps only fleetingly, back to one of the fundamental moral issues of our century.

The sad story of this pitiful little man has appeared on the front pages of nearly every newspaper in the country. He has been featured by every national television network.

Gilmore's insistence on dying has attracted attention, but the death penalty and all its implications is the issue.

Are we ready again to sanction taking human lives?

Gilmore's brutal slaying of a motel operator in Utah has brought him to the edge of his life. He has apparently accepted that fate — the Utah courts and part of the public have not.

When Gilmore dies, and he surely will, it will open the gates to gas chambers, electric chairs and other assorted death rooms for the 350 others waiting on death row across the land.

No execution, officially sanctioned, has taken place in this country since 1967. In fact, Gilmore came the closest under new laws written since the Supreme Court voided all existing laws in 1972 because they were arbitrarily applied.

Gilmore's efforts to be executed would be almost comic if we were not talking about the death of a human.

Here is a man prepared to pay the ultimate penalty for his sin — a penalty the latest Gallup poll claims 65 per cent of all Americans agree with — and the system will not let him die "like a man."

Any one of the 350 other men in Gilmore's situation would probably gladly trade places.

But, this issue is bigger than Gary Gilmore. If he dies it will trigger other executions because just as the first combat kill is the hardest so it appears is the first killing by law.

Even with the support of 65 per cent of the country there is a reluctance to execute Gilmore and start the steady stream of other men to their deaths.

Perhaps it is because the result is so final, or perhaps it is from a respect for life.

It is most likely because it is such a gamble. If we are killing these men for revenge we are no better than they are.

If we kill them as a deterrent then perhaps the death penalty is justified. Those of us who support an equally applied death penalty are gambling with our conscience that it is a deterrent.

It is still difficult because the stakes are so high — another man's life.

Ann Landers

Sex drowning in alcohol

Dear Ann Landers: For several years, I have been married to a man who drinks heavily about four nights a week. Two or three of these nights he would come to bed at 2 a.m. and pass out cold. About 4 a.m. he would wake me up for sex. Then he'd attempt to perform (unsuccessfully), dozing off intermittently without accomplishing anything.

I work full time, keep house and have four children to get off to school. (lover boy works from noon till 8 p.m.)

Finally I told him, "Listen, if you can't make love to me when you are sober, forget about it altogether. No more of this waking me up in the middle of the night."

After that small speech, L.B. was afraid to wake me up. So now he doles out his "favors" twice a month — for five or ten minutes, if you please, and that's it.

Question No. 1: Why does he talk about sex constantly when it means so little to him that he doesn't need it more than twice a month?

Question No. 2: If a woman is married to a man who drinks, should she settle for his inadequate efforts or wait two weeks for five minutes of his precious time?

Please answer these questions in the paper because I attend Al-Anon (thanks to you) and it is a wonderful organization, but almost every woman in my group has this same problem. — A Loyal Reader.

Dear Loyal: Answer No. 1: You say your husband doesn't need sex more than twice a month yet he talks about it all the time. You are mistaken. The poor fellow has the interest and desire but his alcoholism has done such a number on his libido he can't hack it more than twice a month. (Those who CAN — do. Those who can't, talk about it a lot.)

Answer No. 2: Since you aren't getting anything out of it either way, opt for the five minutes twice a month. At least you will get some rest. I urge you to continue with Al-Anon. They do so much good for so many. And don't hesitate to speak up at the meetings about anything that bothers you. The questions you've asked ME should be put to your group leader and discussed openly.

Dear Ann: I'm a 14-year-old girl who could pass for 17 easy. My vocabulary is very mature as well as my looks.

I am nuts about a guy who is a senior. Marty will be 18 next month. He has a smile like Elton John.

We were getting along super until today. He told me not to telephone him any more because his mother doesn't like girls to bother him when he is trying to study.

Do you think his mother really said that or was this Marty's own idea? I'd like your frankest opinion. — Long Eyelashes.

Dear L.E.: My frankest opinion is that it doesn't matter WHOSE idea it was. You're getting the busy signal, Buttercup. Marty was probably a little late in figuring out he's too old for you. A boy about 15 is more your speed. Wise up and consider yourself disconnected — and stay off the horn.

Only expectant women marry

Within the village of Staphorst in The Netherlands is a religious congregation known as the Reformed Association Church. Young couples who belong to it aren't allowed to get married unless the bride is expecting. Theory is among the 5,000 members that this stipulation in their moral code eventually will lead to the church's growth. It forces every pair of newlyweds to prove beyond a question before the wedding ceremony that they're able to multiply.

Most of the single-vision lenses for eyeglasses are turned out by just a few national manufacturers. They're sold wholesale to regional labs for about $3. Those labs sell thgm in frames to the local optometrists for less than $10. So reports an insider of the old vision-for-profit game.

HATS

Q. "In hats, what's the difference between a derby and a bowler?"

A. No difference. A fellow named William Coke designed the first of those hard round riding hats in the early 1800s. Then along came a Southwark hatter named William Bowler who improved on the model. Finally, the horsey set took to wearing those things to the Epsom Downs races started up in 1780 by the Earl of Derby. The hat is still known to some by its original name, the Coke.

Q. "You know that malt liquor TV commercial in which Redd Foxx supposedly drives a car down a ski slide and off a high jump? Who actually does the driving?"

A. Nobody. Stuntmen turned down the job as too dangerous. What's behind the wheel is a dressed-up dummy.

GEMINIS

The only Gemini ever to serve as a U.S. president was John F. Kennedy. Geminis are said to consider this unfortunate. They're thought to be a fairly sensitive bunch, anyhow, an there are those among them who resent the fact that five Scorpios have become president. And four each of the Capricorns, Aquariuses, Pisces and Tauruses. They're aware, too, that the presidents have included three each of the Libras, Sagittarians and Cancers. And two each of the Aires, Leos and Virgos. They console themselves only with the knowledge that a great many of the brainier presidential advisers have been Geminis.

The death rate among women as a result of burns in the last 15 years has dropped by 55 per cent. Researchers studied and studied to find out why. But they reported they could turn up no other reason than the fact that far more women of late are wearing pantsuits and slacks instead of dresses and skirts.

A student of the mind contends the jokes at which you laugh the loudest show the way you'd really like to behave, if your conscience wouldn't stand in your way.

You don't read much about the community pigs of colonial times, but every little town had some of same, foraging loose through the streets, to carry out the planned purpose of cleaning up the garbage.

Dr. Miller

Boa constrictor: food a problem

DEAR DR. MILLER: I have a chance to get a large boa constrictor cheap, in fact I think I can get it for nothing. (Maybe they'll even give me something to take it.) As much as I'd like it for a pet, and it seems very healthy, I'm hesitating because of its diet. It's been fed rats and birds, and I can't stand the thought of doing that. Would there be any other kind of food I could give it instead? — A.B.

DEAR A.B.: Reasonably young reptilians who feed on small mammals and birds can probably be taught eventually to eat a new type of nutritionally balanced canned food specifically developed for this purpose. A more mature snake would be less likely to accept such a switch. You probably wouldn't have the stomach to try it anyway, since the trial period would involve still more birds and rats and even if a successful switch to the canned variety were eventually made.

DEAR DR. MILLER: It happened again this year. Turkey dressing made our dog deathly sick for a couple of days. What is there about dressing that would make a dog so sick but wouldn' hurt people? — C.N.

DEAR C.N.: Usually the difference is age. Turkey dressing that may have been sitting around long enough for people to tire of it and finally gets fed to the dog may have become contaminated and the canine consuming it thus afflicted with food poisoning.

Consider, too, another common cause for canine indigestion (with varying gastrointestineal symptoms) after conspicuous overconsumption of holiday-type meals. Dressing or other rich foods, often liberally laced with gravy, may be given in quantity as a special treat. Some canines won't quit eating when such a meal is proffered. Combined, the quantity and the richness can easily cause a stomach revolution. (This DOES happen to humans as well as canines.)

DEAR DR. MILLER: My son's an avid, too avid I'm afraid, science fiction reader. He's claiming it's really true that scientists have developed a new life form, plumans, a cross between plants and humans. I know, of course, he's wrong. But if he isn't? — D.T.

DEAR D.R.: He's not, "they" are here! The 'offspring' of a human-plant cell fusion process conceived at the Brookhaven National Laboratory acts plantlike. The hybrids are intended to be used primarily to help geneticists learn about human cell chromosomes. Plumans (playmans?) are, in any case, unlikely to qualify as pettable.

Serpent in the Garden of Eden

Every now and then, wives, who are usually somewhat exasperating, become hopelessly exasperating.

Let me illustrate by an episode from "As the World Squirms." SCENE: Comfortable suburban home of Jim and Mary Coupled, the living room after dinner. (Organ music up.)

As Jim settles back in his easy chair, he notices an unfamiliar pipe in the ash tray.

"Whose pipe is this?" he asks.

Mary looks up from the newspaper. "Oh, that's Fred's. He must have left it here last night."

"Riley was here last night? Too bad I was out. How is the old sonofagun?"

"Same as always. Fine — in that good-looking, wealthy, debonair way of his."

Silence for a moment. Then Jim asks, "What was he doing here?"

"Just dropped in. Wanted to see you about something."

"Does he often 'just drop in'?" (Heavy sarcasm.)

"Not often, no. Occasionally. Why do you ask?"

"What are you smiling at?"

"Bugs Bunny."

"Would you mind having the simple courtesy not to read the funnies while I'm talking to you?" Do other guys also drop in when I'm not here?"

"You're NEVER here, darling. Bowling, lodge meeting, work at the office — sure, some others drop in. Bill was here Monday night. Betty and Jack came by last week. Wanted to play some bridge, but you were at barber shop quartet rehearsal."

Quite a long silence, then Jim asks, "Are you faithful to me?"

Mary rattles the newspaper complacently. "Well, it depends on what you mean by faithful."

"You know perfectly well what I mean by faithful!"

"There's no need to shout."

"Who's shouting?" Jim shouts.

"You are. Yes, darling, I am faithful to you — heaven knows why."

"Why are you smiling?"

"I can SMILE, can't I?"

"Not like that, you can't."

Brief explosive silence, Jim smouldering, Mary purring.

Jim says, "You are faithful — that's what you said."

"Really, dear, I don't think it's any of your business whether I — "

"My BUSINESS!" he roars. "I MARRIED you, didn't I? I'm your husb — "

"I paid for the license."

Jim glowers. Why does she always have to bring THAT up?

"How long has this been going on?" he demands.

"How long has what been going on?"

"You know — this steady stream of handsome young men coming to the — "

"Oh for pity's sake, grow up! There's no law against people coming to see you — and certainly none against a husband staying home once in awhile."

(Doorbell rings).

Jim shouts, "Aha!" and strides to the door.

"Oh hi, Nancy. Yeah, she's here. Come on in."

(Organ music up as Mary greets her guest and Jim slinks into the kitchen for a drink.)

Dr. Lamb

Healthy heart can skip

DEAR DR. LAMB — I have had a problem with my heart jumping and feeling as if it is turning over and as if it is coming right up to my throat. This is not a rapid beat or just a flutter but real hard beats. I've had this occasionally for some time but recently, since I had a bad fall, the problem is daily and wakes me up at night. It sometimes lasts three hours. This leaves me feeling very weak and I've become very depressed.

My doctor does not seem too alarmed about it though he has given me several electrocardiograms, but never when one of the spells occurred. He only found that my heart was skipping some so he put me on Inderal.

I would like your opinion of the seriousness of this problem and if there is a faster acting medication. Should I limit my activities with this problem?

Even though I only weigh 97 pounds I have a cholesterol problem and control my diet all the time.

DEAR READER — There is no substitute for an actual record of an irregularity of the heartbeat to help a doctor make a diagnosis. The fact that you have irregular beats on your ECG suggests that the persistent hard beats may be from the same cause.

In judging the importance of irregularities of the heart one has to consider the rest of the patient's medical status. They do occur commonly in normal healthy people. Skipped beats that feel like the heart is turning over as you describe it often occur in people with no heart disease. On the other hand, their presence in a patient with a recent heart attack is very important and requires immediate treatment.

To give you a better concept of what irregularities mean I am sending you The Health Letter number 6-12, Heart Irregularities, Skipped Beats, Tachycardia. Others who want this information can send 50 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Just send your letter to me in care of this newspaper, P. O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Inderal is a good medicine and is often sufficient to control heart irregularities. If you don't get success or sufficient control with it your doctor may want to use some other medicine, but give it a chance first.

Meanwhile, you can increase your potassium intake as that sometimes helps. I would suggest a couple of 8-ounce glasses of orange juice a day. I suspect your weight and cholesterol can tolerate this addition.

If you use coffee, alcohol or cigarettes I would advise discontinuing them.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I run cross-country and track and I've heard that eating peanuts during one's training period is bad for health. I would like to hear your view. I have been doing your leg exercises to build up my legs and I feel as if they are stronger.

DEAR READER — If your digestive system tolerates peanuts without causing you discomfort they are not likely to hurt you.

Remember that about 70 per cent of the calories in peanuts are from fat. They do contain a lot of calories. A person who needs to eliminate or control body fat should not eat many of them in the interest of controlling calorie intake. If a cross-country runner is overweight he usually does better if he eliminates any excess fat he might have.

What people say

"We have heard so many times that the vast majority of families are being priced out the housing market, that higher energy costs are crimping the typical family's ability to afford a home, that later marriages and smaller families mean trouble for housing. Yet families are still buying homes."

—Robert Hazen, president of the United States League of Savings Associations, predicting a record $70 billion will be loaned for mortgages this year.

Robert Schuller

Turning rags into riches

The story is told of a hunting lodge high up in the north of Scotland which has become a famous showplace. Many years ago, a guest opened a bottle of soda and accidently splashed its contents over the newly-decorated wall. It left an unsightly blotch, stretching almost from floor to ceiling.

One man studied the blotch on the wall and then went to work on it with pencil, charcoal, and finally oil paints. With quick, bold strokes he turned the brown stains into brown Highland rocks, with a mountain stream pouring over them. Where the stain was darkest and deepest, he painted a Highland stag leaping into the torrent pursued by hunters in the background. His name was Sir Edwin Landseer, the artist famous for his animal paintings. He turned something terrible into something wonderful.

Possibility thinkers are masters at turning every obstacle into an opportunity.

Accepting applications

The Diamond Bar Community Nursery School is now accepting applications for enrollment. The school is located at the Northminster Presbyterian Church, 400 S. Rancheria Road, Diamond Bar.

Social and emotional development, creative opportunities and educational and physical achievement are emphasized at the school. In addition, parents participate in the learning experience by attending classes three times a month.

For further information, call Marilee Smith at 598-2945 or Judy Miller at 595-4057.

Flea market scheduled

St. Joseph's Elementary School of Pomona will sponsor a giant flea market Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on the school grounds.

The school Parent-Teacher Organization will coordinate over 50 booths of antiques, art work, crafts, plants, jewelry and used items. Refreshments will also be sold.

The public is invited to participate.

La Verne gets funds

The Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors has released $81,701 to the City of La Verne for street maintenance work.

The money is the city's share of state gas tax funds apportioned by the supervisors during the past three years. City Manager George Caswell says La Verne already is holding about $80,000 in gas funds received directly from the state.

He said the money will be used to repair ruts and chuck holes in some of the more important streets of the city.

Grange master elected

Herb Marshall of Pomona has been elected 1977 master of the Los Angeles County Grange.

Serving with Marshall are Evelyn Ray, overseer; Marie Rice, lecturer; Harry Monnier, steward; Verne Cuddeback, assistant steward; Beatrice Cuddeback, assistant; Verda Blubaugh, chaplain; Melvin Cleland, treasurer; Charliene Todd, secretary; Ed Groleau, gatekeeper; Ceres Emma Johansson, Helen Cole and Flora Dalzire Bock; George Stinebaugh, third year executive committee; and Gladys Dickason, musician.

Officers will be installed Dec. 12 at 2 p.m.

Scholarship contributions

Foothill Beverage Co., Pomona, has made a contribution to the scholarship fund of the Hispanic Women's Council of Los Angeles, according to Robert B. Lewis, president of the distributorship.

"We are delighted to be able to continue our involvement in the interests of the Mexican-American community by con contributing to the fund," said Lewis.

The Hispanic Women's Council is a non-profit organization formed in 1973.

Its purpose is to provide scholarships, to foster unity, to promote the welfare of women and stimulate leadership, professionalism and participation in cultural, community and civic affairs.

Moynihan to speak

Daniel Patrick Moynihan, U.S. Senator-elect from New York and former U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations, will speak Dec. 9, in the Alumni Pavilion at Loma Linda University.

Tickets are $2 and are available by mail from the World Affairs Council, P. O. Box 112, Riverside 92502. They also may be purchased at the door. Students from high schools and colleges will be admitted free. The program, sponsored by the Loma Linda University and World Affairs Council of Inland Southern California, starts at 8 p.m.

To present scrooge

The Diamond Bar Children's Theater will present "Scrooge" at 3 p.m. Dec. 11 and 12 at Chaparral Intermediate School, 1405 S. Spruce Tree Drive, Diamond Bar.

Tickets at $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children 12 and under may be purchased at the performances. Diamond Bar Children's Theater is a non-profit group, and all proceeds from this event go to the theater, for furthering the educational and cultural enrichment of the communities.

Swim class for youngsters

A kindergym and swim class for youngsters from three months to 3 years of age will be offered by the Pomona Valley YMCA starting Monday.

The class will be held on Mondays and Wednesdays from 9 to 10 a.m. for two weeks.

Parents will learn how to exercise their babies and muscle-building activities for children's play at home. Children will also be given swim lessons.

Cost is $8 per child.

For information, persons may call 623-6433.

Resuscitation technique

Cardiopulmonary resuscitation technique will be taught in a class at the Pomona Valley YMCA beginning Monday.

The class will meet on Monday, Wednesday and Monday, Dec. 13, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Cost will be $2 per person, with 25 cents off for persons who already have the class book.

For information, persons may call 623-6433.

Singles meet Monday

Pomona Valley Jewish Singles will meet Monday at 8 p.m. at the home of Aura Kruger, 719 Ivory Lane, Pomona.

Guest speaker will be Agnes Gilbreath of the National Organization of Women. She will discuss the present and future of the women's liberation movement.

A social hour with refreshments will follow.

Two holiday parties have been planned for the singles. A Chanukah Latka party will be held Dec. 19, and a Christmas party, Dec. 22, at members' homes.

Emergency traffic capability and access to local residents will be maintained within the work zone but other traffic will be rerouted.

Detours via Vejar Road or Valley Boulevard will minimize trip adjustments.

Magic show for children

The Chino Branch Library will host a special preholiday magic show for children on Saturday.

Performances are scheduled for 1:30 and 3 p.m. The audience will be limited to 75 persons per show. Further information may be obtained by calling the library at 628-1604.

Gas Co. price hike

Southern California Gas Co. is being allowed by the California Public Utilities Commission to increase rate from December through next March to offset increases the utility must pay its pipeline companies.

The increases became effective Dec. 1, same day price increases approved by the Federal Power Commission for the pipelines went into effect.

None of the increase will be applied for rates for "lifeline" residential quantities for cooking, water heating or space heating during the winter months.

Average residential customers who use gas for cooking, water heating and space heating, who exceed the 81 therm "lifeline" allowance by 19 therms per month will pay a 31 cent increase.

Descendants feted at Phillips Mansion

Descendants of pioneer Pomona families will be hosts and honored guests at an open house Sunday from 2 to 4 p.m. at Phillips Mansion, 2640 Pomona Blvd.

L. Dudley Phillips, grandson of the mansion builders, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Phillips, and his wife will be hosts together with Mr. and Mrs. Myron F. Powell, descendants of other early valley residents.

Special displays will feature numerous recent gifts and visitors will see the results of recent renovation activities by Circle K members from Cal Poly Pomona.

Mrs. Ralph J. Rieger, society president, Miss Elizabeth Zilles, chairman of the committee in charge of refurnishing the mansion, and docents of Native Daughters of the Golden West will conduct tours.

Among families to be represented are the Weigle, Loucks, and Whipp. Their names have been given to three of the four downstairs rooms, the fourth being named for Native Daughters.

Ocean ridge

The Mid-Ocean Ridge is a continuous underwater mountain chain that winds through all the world's ocean basins. A major portion of the Mid-Ocean Ridge is the 12,000-mile-long Mid-Atlantic Ridge, lying almost halfway between North America and Europe. Here violent volcanic eruptions occur and molten rock constantly wells up through the rift as the floor of the Atlantic spreads outward, carrying Europe and North America apart by nearly an inch a year.

Mailing deadlines advanced

Christmas mailing deadlines for domestic parcels and letters have been advanced because of an exceptionally high volume of mail, according to Pomona Postmaster Warren Lynch.

The suggested mailing deadline is today for domestic parcels and Dec. 10 for letters and cards.

The Pomona Post Office will be open Saturdays from 8:30 a.m. to noon to accept parcels and sell stamps.

Lynch said suggested mailing dates for international mail are unchanged, and he urged customers to deposit overseas packages and cards immediately.

"They should be sent by airmail if they are to be delivered by Christmas."

CB radio sales in steep climb

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite a late summer-early fall sales slump, more citizens band radios will be sold this year than in the 18 years since the general public has been permitted to use them, an industry trade group predicts.

John Sodolski, an Electronics Industries Association vice president, said 1976 sales will total nearly 10 million sets, more than double the number of CB radios sold last year.

Retail sales of radios, antennae and other accessories should top $2 billion this year, he predicted.

Sodolski said there are nearly 20 million CB sets now in use. The Federal Communications Commission said it has issued 7.5 million licenses, with the rate of applications continuing at about 300,000 a month.

Many CB enthusiasts install units in both their homes and their cars to enable home-to-mobile conversations.

The industry expects CB sales to continue to climb next year, Sodolski said, due largely to publicity since the growth of CBs began in 1973, new features and the expansion of the current 23-channel CB band to 40 channels next month.

Recent FCC figures show about 70 models containing the new 17 channels have been approved for sale on Jan. 1 when the FCC channel expansion become effective.

Sodolski said only three million CB sets were sold between 1958, when CB radio as it is now known was created, and 1973, when a combination of factors triggered the current boom. Sales in 1973 exceeded one million, then more than doubled each year since then.

But the FCC expansion decision and its initial confusion, combined with the usual late summer sales slump and supply finally meeting demand, brought about a halt in the rising rate of sales in September.

Offshore development study released

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional report released Thursday says large-scale development of deepwater tanker ports, floating nuclear power plants and offshore petroleum drilling would conflict seriously with other interests but that there is no system to resolve such problems.

The congressional Office of Technology Assessment, in a 310-page report begun two years ago, studied in detail such proposals for projects off the coasts of New Jersey and Delaware, and then drew general conclusions about the problems of offshore development nationwide.

The study noted that the leasing of federal areas for petroleum off New Jersey and Delaware has already begun, and that New Jersey's Public Service Electric and Gas Co. has already ordered a floating nuclear power plant to be located a few miles off the Atlantic City bach resort area and has planned three more.

Although the oil industry once considered a deepwater tanker port to serve refineries in the New York or Philadelphia area, the OTA report says such a port is not likely to be built to serve the Mid-Atlantic during the next 10 years.

"No significant damage to the environment or changes in patterns of life in either New Jersey or Delaware is anticipated during operation of the three systems at presently projected levels," the report said.

But it goes on to say that expansion of ocean projects on a scale larger than that now anticipated could create serious conflicts among users and impose excessive burdens on ocean and coastal environments.

"No formal mechanism exists or is planned for resolving conflicts or directing research" on expanded offshore energy development, the report says.

The report says other alternatives could substitute for offshore projects, such as onshore nuclear and coal-fired power plants, more oil imports, and the use of small tankers in existing coastal ports.

"None, however, offers clear social, environmental or economic advantages" over offshore development, the report concludes.

Offshore development exists at various levels along other portions of the U.S. seacoast, but some of the report's findings may have wide application even though they were based on mid-Atlantic projects.

While the first leases have been sold off the mid-Atlantic coast, there has been no major petroleum drilling there as yet. The sale of leases is still in the future for the New England and South Atlantic seaboards.

Leasing has taken place and petroleum drilling is getting under way in the Gulf of Alaska. Petroleum production has been going on for many years in the Gulf of Mexico and off Southern California.

Floating nuclear power plants pose a potential new issue for all seacoasts, since none has ever been built before.

DENTAL ADVANCE — Drs. Joseph H. Kronman, left, and Melvin Goldman of Tufts University Dental School in Boston show the needle they developed to squirt their chemical GK-101 onto tooth cavities. They say the chemical breaks up decay material and the tooth can be filled with little drilling and almost no pain.

Ferryboat operator satisfied with lot

Life just a bowl of cherries

OXFORD, Md. (AP) — Life a treadmill? Same old grind, same old rut? Take cheer, then, from Gilbert Clark.

"I've never thought of it as a rut," Clark said. "I'd rather do what I do than anything else. It's a simple life, but it's a good life. I have no ambition to do anything else."

What Gilbert Clark does, day in and day out, is run a ferryboat.

Let other mortals stew and fret over bosses and budgets and business deals. Clark is perfectly content to drive his little ferryboat back and forth, back and forth, across the Tred Avon River on Maryland's Eastern Shore, and at nightfall tie it to a dock in this antique village, go home, and reflect on his happy lot.

He loves his work, he loves his boat. A sign in its pilot house says: "This is my boat and I'll do as I damn please." It could stand as Capt. Gilbert Clark's autobiography.

No less does he love the area where he does his work. He selected it after search and deliberation.

"All rivers and bays and inlets are places of beauty," he said. "But this river and the others," he said, his arm sweeping the surrounding scenery, "the Choptank, the Miles, the Wye, the Chester, well, I just don't think there is another place like it on earth."

Indeed. And no moment quite like the present in this lovely piece of geography, for now is the time of the geese.

Now is the time when the gray December sky is necklaced daily with wafting chevrons of black, and in the corn stubble hundreds of those marvelous birds, thousands of them, tens of thousands of them, gabble and honk in America's annual miracle of migration.

"I always hate to see them leave," Capt. Clark said. "But they always come back."

Predictability, one can well imagine, is something that would appeal to a ferryboat pilot, and all the more to Gilbert Clark. He represents the fourth generation of Clarks in the ferry business.

He swears he can remember, as a baby boy, being perched on the wheel housing of this very boat, the Southside, as his father spun its wheel and worked its levers.

"My great-grandfather started the ferry from Shelter Island to Sag Harbor in Long Island Sound, towing scows with sailboats. My brother still runs that ferry," Clark said.

"Another family had the ferry on the north side of Shelter Island, we had the one on the south side. That's where my boat got her name. I sailed her down here from Long Island Sound."

Come, now, captain. Sailed that little ferry — which looks like something built for Disneyland with its little white pilot house trimmed in green sticking up from the wooden deck — sailed it down from the New York coast?

"It was a hell of a trip. Took a week. Just pulled my camper on deck for a place to sleep and sailed her on down.

"Oh, she's a sound boat all right. She was built of yellow pine in 1923 and has never had a single plank replaced in her bottom. You couldn't get one built like that today."

Clark is 52, a nimble man with a sailor's rough hands and a face reddened by the river winds.

He discovered Oxford in 1954. "I looked at every ferry from Maine to Florida," he said.

ACQUITTED — Werner Weinhold, 27-year-old East German defector, is congratulated by an unidentified family member after he was acquitted by an Essen, West Germany, court Thursday on two counts of manslaughter. The panel of judges and jurors accepted his contention that he fired in self-defense while fleeing across the border last December when he killed two East German border guards while escaping to the West.

Charity, victims' heirs to get most of money

Producer acquires film rights to Gilmore life story

By JERRY BUCK
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A Hollywood producer said that he has acquired film rights to the life of condemned murderer Gary Gilmore with the provision that Gilmore donate most of the money to charity to the heirs of his victims.

Production of the two-hour movie for ABC Television will begin in February, said Charles Fries of Charles Fries Productions. He will be associated with Larry Schiller, a former Life magazine photographer who packaged books on Marilyn Monroe and Lenny Bruce.

"We acquired the rights over the past weekend," said Fries, a leading producer of movies for television. "Larry Schiller went into the prison and got Gary Gilmore's signature."

Gilmore, 35, is scheduled to face a firing squad at the Utah State Prison no later than Monday. His case gained worldwide attention when he demanded the right to die and when he and his girlfriend, Nicole Barrett, attempted to carry out a suicide pact.

The actual execution, if it takes place, is not expected to be shown in the movie. It is believed that Utah officials will not allow television cameras to film the execution.

No cast has been named for the movie, but the producers are now in the process of selecting a writer for the screenplay.

Fries declined to say how much money would be paid to Gilmore or the victims' heirs. Schiller, however, was quoted as saying that a total of $100,000 was in the "right neighborhood."

"I think the interesting point is that a substantial amount of the money is being donated by Gilmore to charity," Fries said.

He estimated that Gilmore would give 75 per cent of the initial payment to such charities as the Salvation Army.

"If and when the film is produced, we've agreed to make a payment to the heirs of the victims," he said.

These payments would go to the heirs of two persons killed by Gilmore during robberies on successive nights in Utah last July.

Fries said that prior to acquiring the rights he had an understanding from several networks that they were interested in the film. "ABC met the terms," he said.

Fries recently produced "Francis Gary Powers, the True Story of the U2 Spy Incident" and "Call of the Wild" for television.

Nurses schedule meeting

The Orange County Association of Industrial Nurses will hold a dinner meeting at 7 p.m. on Dec. 8, at Mr. Mike's Restaurant, 2101 East Edinger, Santa Ana. Social hour will begin at 6:30 p.m.

"Community Resources — Where, How and When to Refer" will be the topic presented by John F. Von Glahn of Yorba Linda, executive director of Family Services of Orange County and Anthony X. Valles of Santa Ana, Orange County Department of Social Services information and referral Worker.

Betty R. Shepherd of Santa Ana is program chairman and hostess for the meeting and can be called at Steelcase, Inc. in Tustin for reservation. The telephone number is (714) 832-4410.

Singles will meet Friday

Claremont Adult Singles will meet at 8 p.m. in the Round Room of Claremont United Methodist Church at 8 p.m., Friday.

Dr. Torrance Phelps will be the speaker. His talk will deal with the telepathy and clairvoyance inherent in all persons. He is a retired Methodist minister, a world traveler and is listed in "Who's Who in the West." He resides at Pilgrim Place in Claremont.

For information on the group activities contact Jim Buntain, 822-3053 weekdays after 4:30 p.m.

Greeting cards

The universality of Christmas, its customs and traditions are reflected in the greeting cards exchanged by family and friends. No other art form so completely covers all aspects of life.

COMMUNITY SERVICE — Martha Wheeler and Lisa Tomlinson, Ticktockers, display some of the philanthropic project undertaken by the Foothill Chapter. The articles will be on display Sunday.

ORDINANCE NO. 551
AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SAN DIMAS ADDING CHAPTER 9.45 TO TITLE 9 OF THE SAN DIMAS MUNICIPAL CODE RELATING TO THE SALE OF PRESSURIZED CANS CONTAINING PAINT TO MINORS

The City Council of the City of San Dimas does ordain as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 9.45 is added to Title 9 of the San Dimas Municipal Code to Read:

"Chapter 9.45
Sale of Pressurized Cans Containing Paint to Minors

9.45.01. Sale of Pressurized Cans Containing Paint to Minors. It is unlawful for any person to sell, exchange, give or loan, or cause or permit to be sold, exchanged, given or loaned, any pressurized can containing any substance commonly known as paint to any minor person under the age of eighteen years, unless such person has in his possession at the time of such sale, exchange, gift or loan, a written request therefor signed by a parent or the guardian of the minor. The person making any such sale, exchange, gift or loan shall retain possession of the written request signed by the parent or guardian for a period of at least thirty days and during that time shall present the same to any peace officer upon his request.

9.45.02. Possession of Pressurized Cans Containing Paint by Minors Prohibited During Certain Hours. Between the hours of 8 p.m. and 8 a.m., it is unlawful for any minor person under the age of eighteen to have in his possession any pressurized can containing any substance commonly known as paint while upon any public highway, street, alley, way, park, playground, swimming pool or public place, whether such minor is or is not in any automobile, vehicle or other conveyance.

The provisions of this section shall not apply to any minor person under the age of eighteen who is accompanied by a parent or his guardian.

9.45.03. It shall be unlawful for any person licensed to do business in the City of San Dimas to display any pressurized can containing any substance commonly known as paint, for sale from any self-service or self-help counter. Such pressurized cans containing any substance commonly known as paint may be offered for sale from an enclosed counter, access to which is only available to a clerk."

SECTION 2. The City Clerk shall certify to the passage of this ordinance and shall cause the same to be published as required by law.

Passed and approved this 23rd day of November, 1976.

Electronic organ will make great music gift for family

Looking for a Christmas gift for the whole family? Why not give them an orchestra — or a rock band, or a jazz combo? Better yet, why not give them all, and more, in the form of an electronic organ!

Today's organ can make just about any kind of music imaginable, and is so easy to play that a gift instrument delivered on the day before Christmas can mean beginners sitting down to play a carol before evening, complete with full chording and instrumental as well as rhythmic accompaniment.

This ability to provide music instantly, combined with its capabilities as a challenging instrument for even the most accomplished musician, is the major reason for the organ's position as the favorite instrument of nearly 6 million amateur musicians in the United States, according to the National Association of Electronic Organ Manufacturers.

The electronic organ is a true child of the space age, incorporating many of the same techniques that are used in space exploration.

Sound complicated? Not at all. Merely by pressing a button, the full flute chorus can be changed to the sound of a string, brass or reed section, or even a complete range of individual instruments including banjo, piano, oboe or trumpet. And with the twist of a knob, these basic "pre-set" sounds can be made to do things that would be impossible on the original instruments. In addition, most models have special stops that can duplicate such special effects sounds as whistles, popping corn, chimes, even a singing voice.

Such versatility makes the organ a perfect gift for the whole family. It can not only play any kind of music with the "appropriate" instruments, but can also provide an automatic rhythmic accompaniment for every tempo from polka to march.

Full-size home organs are available in two basic models, the spinet and the console, which differ primarily in size and number of keys. Spinets with one keyboard start at around $600. Models with two 44-note keyboards and a 13-note pedalboard range in price from $1,000 to $4,000. The larger consoles sell for $8,000 or $9,000 and have 61-note keyboards and a full 25-note pedalboard. As a rule, consoles also have more special controls for various sounds, but many spinets come close in range.

No matter what your decorating scheme, there are organ models that can serve as handsome focal points for any room. Cabinets are available in a wide variety of woods, and in styles from ultra-modern to French Provincial. One model, when closed, looks like an early American roll-top desk.

Since headset jacks are now standard equipment on most organs, the instrument is good for apartments and for rooms with television or stereo sets. By using the headset, you can play for yourself alone. Many units also come with cassette tape decks, which are ideal for pre-taped music lessons, or for taping the results of your own practicing, and even playing duets with yourself. And, organs can be plugged into any standard outlet.

'Friendship tree' for Yule season

Start a new tradition in your family this holiday season by turning your Christmas tree into a "friendship tree." What better way to decorate your home at this happy time of year than with photographs of all the friends and neighbors who give the holidays the special warmth and closeness we all cherish.

Part of the fun of a "friendship tree" is that everyone in the family can become involved, and you can start collecting the photos anytime during the year. A large family gathering for dinner? Be sure to get a good close-up, smiling photo of each member of the group for the tree. Visiting some out-of-town friends? Take your camera along and record them on film to add to your collection.

With an instant picture camera like the new low-cost Pronto! you can get big, colorful close-ups that will really make your tree sparkle. The Pronto! pictures come out of the camera encased in their own neat frame, and develop into picture-perfect decorations while you watch — no waiting and wondering if you got the picture you wanted. That way you can add to your friendship tree right up to Christmas day, and your subjects can have the extra fun of seeing their photo hung while they are there.

Help him dress up—or down

NEW YORK (NEA) — While Christmas is always the season to be jollier, this year the holidays are also a time for men to look dandier.

Novelty items, such as socks with raised-letter phrases like "Catch Ya on the Flip-Flop" echoing the countrywide citizen band radio mania, may make whimsical stocking fillers. But, more and more gift items for men share a dressed up look, especially in the traditional categories.

Ties, for example, are decidedly neat this year. Almost unanimously retailers are focusing on the conservative approach in neckwear givables. Florals, conversationals and scenics are quickly being supplanted by stripes (many of them regimentals) and small patterns (often foulards or scaled-in geometrics). The niftiest new look, though still underwhelming, is in the "underknot" — when the design on the tie is different than that on the knot itself.

Colognes, too, are less splashy when offered as non-aerosol sprays. Many gift sets or gift-with-purchase items include smart leather and-or canvas totes and accessories.

Of the new men's fragrances this year, many are handsomely packaged and highly priced for a touch of class. Faberge, whose Brut has become a classic masculine scent, continues its emphasis on aggressive names by presenting Macho as a more costly cologne contender for gift-giving. Although the company describes the softened T-shaped bottle as futuristic, some critics call it risque. The advertising does refer to Macho as "b-a-a-a-d."

Body joys — like the luxury of tub bathing — are being promoted by several companies, among them the recently formed La Costa Products International, headquartered at the famous La Costa Spa in Carlsbad, Calif. The Spa products include bath oils, mineral baths and other such soothers.

Even skivvies can become fashionable items, not merely "excuse gifts" to replenish a dwindling supply. Jockey International has a whole line of "Dual Purpose" swimwear — underwear with matching tank tops for warmth underneath during wintry cold or for an expose during a sun-filled winter vacation. Munsingwear has taken an extra step by offering tan terry briefs which serve as swimwear and match a snuggly terry robe.

Double-duty extends into other holiday items, too, namely sportswear. Soccer, the newest sporting craze, is winning approval from the spectator set as a styling influence. The collar treatment is active in sporty shirts, many of which have the authentic longer tail that can be tucked in off the field. Tennis outfits, mostly classic this season though occasionally vibrantly colored, are for the guys who play indoors or who like looking at their attire in anticipation of an early spring. Of course, the shirts are great weekenders off the court, just as golf cardigans are also worn off the green.

Double-duty goes yet another route for Christmas — giving. The men's-tailored influence in women's wear has a counterpart of sorts in "companion" clothes for each sex.

LATEST STYLES — Joe Bonaminio of The Rack Clothiers, located at the corner of 2nd Street and Harvard, Claremont Village, is ready to show the holiday gift buyer the latest men's fashions.

Hand tools handy

Mounting material costs and higher service charges have convinced even the most unhandy home or apartment dweller that he should do some repairs or building projects himself. This "Do-it-Yourself" trend has provided the ideal solution to the gift buyer who doesn't know what to get the men on her holiday list.

Hand tools, such as the Vise-Grip locking pliers, are practical, inexpensive gifts that are sure to be used throughout the year. A special Christmas gift set, which includes two sizes of locking pliers, sells for under $10. If the man on your list owns only three hand tools, one of them should be a locking pliers, as its many uses extend to the kitchen, workshop, car, boat and garage.

Available at hardware, discount, department and auto stores, hand tools will surprise the men on your list who expect the traditional tie, cologne or shirt this holiday season. They're so versatile, an extra set will always be handy in another part of the home.

When Dad's not looking, Mom might borrow his Vise-Grip tool to make many of her jobs easier. So it's the perfect family gift from the kids, at a price within their budget, too.

After-5 fashion

Tiny drawstring pouches in black suede are elegant for evening this season.

All that glitters looks like gold in jewelry for the holidays, as hammered collars, long, heavy pendants, and wide arm cuffs reflect the Midas touch.

Evening bags are small but stylish in satin, peau de soie, beads, jersey or metal, with gold and silver finishes.

Little black bags with long linguini straps also strike an elegant note after dark this season.

Ski parka gift tips revealed

Buying a ski parka as a gift? Here are some points to remember when you make your selection.

Look for jackets with lightweight, tightly woven outer shells — nylon taffetas, gabardines, cires and poplins are excellent choices. Make sure the lining is lightweight too, and pull on the seams to check for sturdiness.

The interlining is important. Expensive jackets are usually filled with goose down, which provided the best insulation. Less-expensive styles are made of polyester fiberfills which provide plenty of warmth, and unlike goose down, usually can be washed. Avoid fiberfills with labels that include "waste materials" because these materials tend to mat.

Remember: the more protection against drafts, the better. Jackets that have zippers with flaps behind them to prevent wind penetration are best. Sleeves should be tight-fitting at the wrist.

For Christmas drama

Mirror 'effect' sparkles decor

NEW YORK (NEA) — If you want to obtain maximum sparkle and dimension in your holiday decorating scheme, use mirrors to double the drama of Christmas lights and trees and visually expand the space around them.

You can lose your head by going lavish in your mirror treatment. Completely cover a wall with floor-to-ceiling mirrored panels or with easy do-it-yourself mirrored tiles to multiply space and sparkle many times.

Or, you can create smaller jewel-like settings by using a decorative framed mirror or an unframed style, similar to the old-fashioned Venetian types, in a new gray or bronze tint. The dimension doesn't match that of a complete wall of mirrors, but a framed or unframed mirror — effectively placed in space — creates its own drama.

For holiday decorating use a mirror for innovation and then let it stand on its own design merit after the holiday.

There are many ways to use mirrors and many Christmas - oriented ideas to try.

A setting created by designers for PPG Industries, uses a decorative framed mirror to create a three-dimensional Christmas card for the wall of a small dining alcove. Another uses a large unframed mirror with polished edges as a focal fireplace mirror on a wall where a fireplace might be — but isn't. Its purpose is to build a window of warm reflections by projecting the color and sparkle of Christmas from many angles.

To create a mirrored Christmas card, use a rectangular framed mirror. You can use a white enamel framed mirror or one with a gold, silver, wood or metal frame. To give the mirror a holiday flavor, simply apply a Christmas stencil as an inner frame and a holiday wreath in the center of the mirror. Then hang it on the wall of a small dining alcove, foyer, bedroom or wherever its sparkle and imaginative holiday treatment will have the greatest effect.

To make the stencil, simply trace a design from a book, a greeting card or other source onto tracing paper and transfer to stencil paper or thin cardboard. Cut out the stencil and apply the design to the mirror by using a sponge that has been dipped in ordinary Glass Wax (a standard pink liquid glass cleaner that dries white). There are other stencil materials (sprays and felt-tip markers) that can be used — just be certain that what you use can be removed easily.

The fireplace mirror idea works well on a plain wall or on one to which bookshelves are added. To create the fireplace feeling, place a 4x6-foot unframed mirror (perhaps the new gray glass) on the center of the wall, in a focal area where a fireplace would be, with furniture grouped around it in a hearth-type fashion. Frame the mirror with a garland of favorite Christmas greens and lights, leaving the center area free to pick up room reflections. Add a platform to the base of the mirror, for miniature trees or poinsettias at Christmas, and for other flowers and plants as seasons change.

'Gotcha' in fish glove for angler

"Gotcha!" is a common cry of the excited fisherman who's finally landed something he can brag about back home.

Now to help your favorite angler hold on to his prize, 3M Company developed a unique piece of handware called, appropriately, the 3M "Gotcha" fish glove. It makes a great stocking-stuffer gift.

The fingers and palm of this flourescent orange nylon glove are covered with a white, nonwoven material that helps grip a struggling fish while the hook is being removed.

The "Gotcha" fish glove provides protection to both the fish and fisherman. It permits a light grip on a fish so it may be unhooked and easily released. It protects the angler from being cut by sharp fins and gill covers. It also enables the angler to maintain a firmer grip while cleaning the fish.

Available nationally at many sporting goods outlets, the "Gotcha" fish glove has a suggested retail price of $3.95.

Sleepwear for coeds

Got a co-ed on your gift list? Chances are, she'd love some new sleepwear or loungewear for the dorm or sorority house.

Take her personality into consideration when choosing your gift; if she's a romantic, old-fashioned type, gift her with a darling granny gown.

If she's a lively pace setter, she'll get a kick out of a one-piece sleeper complete with drop seat! Or, for more classic types, there are tailored night shirts and pajamas that are sure to please.

By OSWALD & JAMES JACOBY

Today's hand from that 1930 final match may well be called a mystery hand. The bidding in the box is when Lightner sat South and Culbertson North. It is rather normal bidding and would probably be duplicated in a modern match.

Langdon opened the four of hearts. Dummy's nine forced East's queen. Today, more than 45 years later, Jacoby, who sat East, can't remember how the play went, but it was one of those hands where the conservative Lightner played safe and scored his three notrump.

At the other table, Hal Sims in the North seat rebid two notrump over his partner's one-spade response. Langdon went to three spades, but Sims rebid to three notrump and played it there.

East opened the deuce of clubs and Sims managed to collect 11 tricks.

Where does the mystery come in? Sims was a great dummy player, but neither of us can find any way that he managed to get that 11th trick.

Ten tricks yes. That 11th really must have required some help from the defenders.

Ask the Jacobys

A Florida reader wants to know what the rule about revokes is. We will answer part of this today and the rest tomorrow.

A revoke occurs when a player who has a card or cards in a suit that he should play, plays a card in some other suit. It becomes established when he or his partner plays to the next trick. The penalty for a revoke is two tricks, but only including the revoking and later tricks. Thus, you cannot lose a trick previously taken if you revoke.

Marsha Fuerst gets CAPS post

Marsha Fuerst, director of North-West College of medical and dental assistants in Pomona, has been elected vice president of the California Association of Paramedical Schools.

The election was held earlier this week at the first annual conference of CAPS in San Diego.

The association consists of 50 vocational schools throughout the state which study state and federal legislation and its effects on paramedical schools.

In addition to the election of officers for CAPS, workshops were included during the conference, with emphasis on student financial aid for paramedical students and "effective" legislation for post-secondary schools.

Mrs. Fuerst's term of office as vice president of CAPS is for one year. She is also a member of Mt. San Antonio General Advisory Council, the women's division of the Chamber of Commerce and sits on the Regional Adult and Vocational Educational Council.

Cancer program

The cancer program of Inter-Community Hospital at Covina has been recognized by the Commission on Cancer of the American College of Surgeons as meeting all established criteria in providing the highest level of quality care for cancer patients, said Charles R. Cook, president of the board of trustees.

Recognition was given to the hospital's cancer program with the notification of a three-year approval granted by the American College of Surgeons, Chicago, Ill. Only 756 hospitals in the United States and 69 in California have received such approval from the college, stated Cook

The Covina hospital broadened its program for the diagnosis and treatment of cancer in 1973 with the establishment of a Tumor Board and Registry and the acquisition of advanced radiation therapy, radiology and nuclear medicine equipment. A that time, the program received approval by the Committee on Cancer of the California Medical Association and funding, in part was approved by the Professional Services Division of the American Cancer Society.

All those nine or older may attend. Additional information may be obtained by calling Swangler at 595-0171.

Friend's death ends tradition

A friendship kept alive by Orville Hooey of La Verne since 1927 with a "Scotch" Christmas card has ended this season.

Hooey received the card that year from his friend in Canada. The one card carried wishes for Merry Christmases from 1927 through 1931.

"I saved the card until 1931 and sent it back to him," said Hooey.

The gag card had been exchanged every year since.

This year it was returned to Hooey with a note from his friend's wife. "She said my friend had passed away from a heart attack," said Hooey. "So also, after 50 years, our little Scotty Christmas card is dead."

Insects fooled, now breeding

Moths, flies, fleas, butterflies and larvae have been fooled by the unseasonal hot weather and are breeding out of season, according to Ron Gilman, assistant agricultural commissioner in Santa Barbara County.

"This unseasonal insect invasion is bothersome to farmers as well as people in urban areas," Gilman said.

The insects are an annoyance to motorists, a threat to farmers and a problem to homeowners.

"Warm weather, early rains and new growth on plants fooled the insects into thinking it was time to break out of their cocoons. The condition is temporary. Once the weather cools, the bugs will start to die off," said Gilman.

Residency rule OK'd

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A measure requiring future city employes to live within five miles of San Francisco's city limits has been passed by the Board of Supervisors.

Mayor George Moscone has 10 days to sign or veto the legislation passed by the supervisors 9-2.

"If a person chooses to share employment benefits he should share the good and bad too," said Supervisor John Molinari.

Representatives of police, firemen and other professional city employes protested the new law and said they saw no reason to change the current 30 mile residency limit.

"We're happy with the 30 mile limit. A five mile limit will be judged unconstitutional," said Paul Chignell of the San Francisco Police Officers Association. He said the new measure would be challenged in the courts.

The five mile limit would be measured from the county line on the south and the city's land boundary on the northeast. Portions of southern Marin, Oakland and the peninsula down to San Bruno would be included.

Gen. Dynamics receives contract

Rep Jim Lloyd, 35th Dist., announced today that General Dynamics Pomona has been awarded a Navy contract for $37.4 million for the production of 280 Sparrow AIM - 7F missiles.

Lloyd, member of the Armed Services Committee, said the Sparrow is an all-weather, medium range intercept missile carried by Navy and Air Force fighters.

It can also be launched from ships and has the capability to intercept targets up to a range of 20 miles.

"This contract attests to the skill and experience of the personnel at General Dynamics and is evidence of a tangible benefit to both the national defense and local economy," Lloyd said.

First deliveries of the Pomona-produced missiles are scheduled for late 1977.

Tips on picking yule tree offered

Christmas trees now are in season and tips for their selection and care are offered by environmental horticulturist Dean Donaldson of U.C. Cooperative Extension.

"Decide the size tree you want, choose one as fresh as possible with evenly spaced, strong limbs," said Donaldson.

To determine freshness, shake to see if needles fall off, smell for a strong fragrance and look for a good green color.

"If you bring your tree home several days before you are ready to decorate it, store it outside in a container of water," said Donaldson.

"When you do bring it in the house, place it in a water container stand. The trick to keeping the tree fresh is to keep it in water the entire time it is in the house. Trees can absorb more than a pint of water a day.

"Decorate evenly so the tree does not tip over."

D.B. woman appointed to council

Mrs. Diann H. Woolman of Diamond Bar has been appointed to the East County Regional Library Council.

The appointment was announced by Los Angeles County Supervisor Peter F. Schabarum.

Mrs. Woolman, 40, is a speech therapist with the Los Angeles County Superintendent of Schools and a member of national and state speech and hearing associations.

It attacks people, pets

Flea no small problem

Have you been plagued by painful, itching bites when you are at home, but don't see any mosquitoes, flies, or other visible evidence of guilty parties? The culprit might be a flea (shown above). Fleas are not flying insects. They hop —along floors or furniture, or on the bedding of pets. They are more commonly seen upon parting the hair on infested cats or dogs. They attack people as well as pets. If infested pets roam outdoors, fleas may be found under houses and porches.

"Adult fleas are blood-sucking parasites that can live several weeks without food," says Deane P. Furman, professor of parasitology, University of California, Berkeley. "This explains why dog or cat owners sometimes return from a vacation and find their homes overrun with the insects even though few or no adult fleas were detected in the house when the people left."

Furman gives the following biography of the flea: The most troublesome widespread, and abundant flea found in homes is the cat flea, with the human flea running second and the dog flea third. Adult fleas are dark reddish-brown insects about the size of a pinhead, with 3 pairs of legs.

The females lay their eggs on the animals or in their sleeping places. When animals shake themselves, the eggs fall onto rugs, floors, or upholstered furniture, and roll into floor crevices or behind cushions. Within a few days, the eggs hatch into yellowish-white, slender larvae that feed on debris on floors. Hidden in floor cracks, or in other hinding places, the larvae change into pupae in silken cases in about eight days. Five to ten days later, adult fleas emerge.

To rid pets and home of fleas, Furman and Edmond Loomis, parasitologist at UC Davis, co-authors of a Cooperative Extension leaflet on controlling these pests, offer the following suggestions:

—Flea Control: Apply insecticides to cats and dogs to kill adult fleas, and to breeding sites to kill both larvae and adult fleas. Directions on labels should be read carefully and all safety recommendations followed.

—Treating Dogs and Cats: Pets may be dusted with four per cent malathion, 0.5 per cent coumaphos or one per cent lindane. Do not use these compounds on pups under 2 months of age or on cats. Five per cent carbaryl (Sevin) dust also may be used, but not on cats under 1 month of age.

If dips or washings are preferred, use 0.5 per cent carbaryl of coumaphos, or 0.25 per cent malathion: do not use coumaphos on pups under 2 months of age or on cats.

—Plastic flea collars impregnated with DDVP may also be used. They are quite effective if fresh. Extreme caution should be taken to prevent animals from chewing on the collars. If this is not possible, take the infested pet to a veterinarian for treatment. Pets that are allowed to roam freely, or who come in contact with other infested animals should be treated repeatedly.

—Treating animal quarters: Flea eggs are usually found on floors, bedding, or in similar locations. These sites should be thoroughly vacuumed and contents of vacuum bags burned to prevent re-infestation. An insecticide should be applied to wall cracks, floors (especially crevices) and to subfloor areas of animal housing. Bedding should be treated or destroyed. Dusts of either 5 percent carbaryl or 4 per cent malathion are effective.

—Treating Inside the Home: If the home is heavily infested, it is best to call in a professional.

DINING TABLE-BUFFET

Do-it-yourself

Unique dining table-buffet

By STEVE ELLINGSON

This unique dining table-buffet has been designed for convenience. It's a serving table . . . a bar . . . a storage center. Everything you need for enjoyable entertaining in a single package you can build yourself. The dining table buffet consists of three units — a drop-leaf table and two rolling carts. When the drop leaf is down, the whole thing takes up a space of only 2' by 6' by 30¼". With the leaf up, there's a 39" wide table top and serving space.

Then there's that precious under-the-counter storage space. One cart has three roomy shelves. Both can double as serving units to supplement the main table, or function independently as TV or snack carts. Step-by-step instructions and plenty of drawings make this project a snap for the do-it-yourselfer. Basic woodworking tools, a sabre saw and exterior-grade plywood are all you need to entertain in style.

To obtain Plan No. 576, DINING TABLE BUFFET, send $1.50 (includes 1st class postage and handling) by cash, check or money order to Steve Ellingson, c/o Pomona Progress-Bulletin Pattern Dept., P.O. Box 2383, Van Nuys, CA 91409.

Mountainous

The name of the state of Montana is latin or Spanish for "Mountainous."

Plants are good gifts

The joy of learning from a green growing plant can be your special gift this Christmas to that little person who may already have too many tee shirts and rubber ducks. Children never grow out of a plant. It grows with them and they grow in learning how to care for Nature's gifts.

Local garden centers or nurseries in the American Association of Nurserymen have a wide array of fun plants that can help teach children how plants grow, what makes them green and what they do for all of us. The little girl or boy on your shopping list will remember your gift long after the toy truck, walkie-talkies and over-sized clothes are broken or worn out.

Garden club meet slated

The December meeting of the Claremont Garden Club will be held at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday at Rancho Santa Ana Botanic Garden, 1500 North College Avenue, Claremont.

"Iris — old and new" will be presented by Mrs. Marge Malone of Woodland Hills. Mrs. Malone is Founder and President of the San Fernando Iris Society and former president of the Southern California Iris Society.

Gardeners check list

—Don't rush on lifting Dalhias. Foliage should be allowed to ripen off and turn yellow, or the bulbs will be robbed of energy for next year's growth.

—Remember that rains can't reach plants growing next to the house under wide overhangs. Don't let them dry out.

—You can begin pruning grapes now. No hurry since you have some three months to do it at your leisure.

—It's too early to prune roses in California. Wait until after Christmas. January is even better.

Watch for aphis on Chrysanthemums. Spray to control them.

Thin Camellia buds now for bigger and better blooms later on. Most Camellias set too many buds.

Perennials of all kinds may be planted now. Delphinium, primrose, Columbine and others are available as inexpensive seedling plants now.

It's too early to prune berries and grapes. Give them another month at least before going at them with the shears.

Reseed bare spots in an old lawn after first coring, or otherwise roughing up the area. Top dress with peat moss and keep the seed moist.

—Now that you are going to have many cuttings from winter cleanup, build a compost pile. Ask your nurseryman for some "how-to-do-it" clues.

—Haphazard pruning can hurt shrubs and trees and, almost as important, keep them from living up to their full potential. That's why a good pruning manual should be part of every gardener's library. Ask your nurseryman for his recommendations.

—Check the attractive, hardy bedding plants available for transplanting to your garden now.

—Start your winter spray program for fruit trees. Ask your nurseryman if you're in doubt about the proper sprays.

ROLLING STONE

Record Reviews

By DAVE MARSH

PATTI SMITH GROUP: "Radio Ethiopia" (Artists 4097).

Smith has as much potential as any rock and roll intellectual ever had, but very little idea of what to do with it. Her accomplishments as a poet are discarded here — she's turned control over to her band, which lacks inspiration and competence. As a result, neither the songs nor the singing have the power of those on last year's debut; the music is at best pedestrian heavy metal. Even her remarkable lyrics suffer from a lack of focus. Hopefully, Smith will soon give up on her egalitarian but naive idea of the-rock-band-as-democracy-in-action and get on with the business of developing her own abilities.

* * *

APRIL WINE: "The Whole World's Goin' Crazy" (London PS 675).

These days, everything from Bruce Springsteen to the Ramones is labelled punk rock — even Jackson Brown, if you can believe that. But that term originally meant the music of one-shot rock bands like ? & the Mysterians, the Shadows of Knight, and Count Five. April Wine have more of the true punk spirit than any of the so-called punks — chances are they'll have a classic Top Ten hit, someday, then disappear. Of course, that also means this album has one moment of great energetic fun ("Gimme Love") and a carload of dross. But that's the glory of the form.

* * *

JR. WALKER: "Whopper Bopper Show Stopper" (Soul S6-748S1).

Everything Jr. Walker ever had to say was contained in classic three minute sax-dominated singles like "Shotgun." And now that the ascendance of disco and jazzrock has made stretching out mandatory, his albums are more dispensable than ever. On the other hand, there's a version of Stevie Wonder's "You Are the Sunshine of My Life" here that is absolutely wonderful in its juxtaposition of harmonica and tenor sax. For fanatics only, nonetheless.

* * *

STRAWBS: "Deep Cuts" (Oyster OY-1603).

While it is often as whiny as most folk-rock, this British quartet has also come up with a Mott the Hoople-meets-the Beetles rocker, "Turn Me Round," that is one of the most exhilarating folk-rock cuts I've heard since the demise of the Byrds. Dave Lambert's electric guitar parts are particularly intriguing, if you have a longing for "Rubber Soul."

* * *

SPARKS: "Big Beat" (Columbia PC 34359).

This group's critical cult continues, but thankfully there is no indication that its sophomoric humor is liable to expand its audience. If I want to be insulted by pseudo-intellectual pop musicians, I'll take Frank Zappa, who is at least a first-rate guitarist. This is effete, funk-less, and lacks any semblance of its own title.

BACK AGAIN

Pianist Murray Perahia returns to Southern California with a recital at the Ambassador Auditorium, Pasadena, at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday. His last local appearance was as soloist with the Los Angeles Philharmonic last April. He will play Mozart's Sonata No. 17 in D Major, Chopin's Sonata No. 2 in B Flat Minor, and Symphonic Etudes by Schumann.

Universal signs two to contracts

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Universal Pictures is adding to its list of players under exclusive contract.

Texas-born Bob Neill, who appeared in "Logan's Run" and "Drive-in," has been signed by the studio. The company also renewed the contract of Gretchen Corbett, who plays James Garner's lawyer in "The Rockford Files" and recently appeared in the TV movie, "The Savage Bees."

These animated cartoon characters will appear on ABC-TV's two-hour special, "Journey Back to Oz," at 7 p.m. Sunday. A galaxy of stars provides the voices — Liza Minnelli as Dorothy, Bill Cosby as the Wizard of Oz, Mickey Rooney as the Scarecrow, Danny Thomas as the Tin Woodman, Milton Berle as the Cowardly Lion, and Margaret Hamilton as the Witch.

Can actor direct self in movie?

By DICK KLEINER

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — There's an old argument in Hollywood — is it OK for an actor-director to direct himself in a movie?

Alan Arkin is about to line up behind those who feel it is all right to do that, by directing himself in a film called "Fire Sale."

"I realize the difficulties in directing and acting in the same film," Arkin says, "but the trick has been turned brilliantly in the past by people like Charlie Chaplin, Laurence Olivier, Orson Welles, Mel Brooks and Woody Allen.

"And I think I can do it, too, particularly since the part I'll be playing is not a particularly difficult one."

"Fire Sale" is a comedy, about two sons who lead family factions — one faction wants to burn down the family business, the other doesn't. Arkin leads one of the factions, Rob Reiner the other, with Vincent Gardenia and Kay Medford as their parents.

Arkin may make his movie a family affair. His wife, Barbara Dana, will be in it and chances are his three sons, Adam, Matthew and Tony will also have parts.

"They all want to be in my pictures," Arkin says, "and there's no reason why I shouldn't put them in, if they're right for the parts. Would it be better for me to hire people I hate?"

He sees nothing wrong with all three of his sons wanting to act. He himself wanted to act since he was five, although he didn't get a chance until he was 28.

"Acting has been good for me," he says, "so let them do it if they want to."

The return of King Kong

Giant ape back after 42 years

LOS ANGELES (AP) — First you see the eyes, dark gleams of brooding menace under a huge brow. Then a back view as he shoulders his way through towering trees. Finally the full, frontal Kong, all 40 feet of him, as he stands ready to pluck the white maiden offered by the island natives as a sacrifice.

Thus the first theatrical reappearance of Kong, back after a 42-year screen absence. The Dino DeLaurentiis production of "King Kong" will be opening in 1,200 American cities in December, and it may well make "Jaws" seem like a minnow.

That was the impression gained from watching a couple of reels of the $24 million film with John Guillermin, the director who has seen it through 18 combative months that might have destroyed someone of less creative energy. Indeed, the ordeal erased 18 pounds from his already spare 145-pound figure.

Guillermin was in a state of exhausted elation. On the day he was interviewed, he had put the finishing touches on the two-hour, 11-minute film ("We planned it for two-ten."). His work was done.

"I feel good about it," he reflected in his office at the MGM studio, where most of "King Kong" was shot. "I haven't made too many movies that I am proud of, but I like this one. It should be a highly commercial film, but it is also a very personal one. I believe that even thinking people will be able to enjoy it."

The director is not accustomed to interviews. He likes to do his work and get on to the next job, not pausing to take bows. Sometimes others do; for instance, his last film, the outsized "Towering Inferno."

Guillermin commented wryly that producer Irwin Allen, who also directed some of the fire scenes, "took all the credit away, even though 90 per cent of the picture was mine."

His opinion of "The Towering Inferno": "The show was 10-15 minutes too long. I tried to get Irwin to cut it, but he wouldn't; usually it's the producer who wants a picture cut, not the director.

"I felt we did a good soap opera. What I wanted to do was make a kind of documentary about people in a fire, and Paul (Newman) and Steve (McQueen) helped in giving it some of that quality. But with Irwin it was dream time."

Guillermin speaks with the accent of London, but he is pure French. Born 50 years ago in Tours, he went to England at 2 when his father moved his business there. He enlisted in the R.A.F. at 17, spent six years as a pilot, came out to direct his first movie at 24.

His early films ranged from "I Was Monty's Double" to "Tarzan's Greatest Adventure." He speaks kindly of only a few, notably "Rapture" and "Waltz of the Toreadors." Among his more commercial films: "The Blue Max," "The Bridge at Remagen," "Skyjacked."

He moved to Los Angeles 10 years ago and said, "I'm sorry I didn't get out of England sooner — the caste system has ruined it."

When Guillermin embarked on "King Kong" in summer 1975, he had his first and only viewing of the 1933 original.

"I hated it," he remarked. "The special effects were well ahead of their time, but the rest of the film was a potboiler. And yet the theme was fascinating; it was phantasmagoric nonsense, but I loved it.

"The story touches on all areas of human emotion. It deals with every fear that women have, and it also appeals to men's masculinity. Kong, the innocent in a rapacious world, is sacrificed at the end. It's absolutely Shakespearian."

One of Guillermin's biggest problems was how to introduce Kong. Producer DeLaurentiis argued for a low-angle shot displaying the ape in his immensity. The director didn't agree. Three weeks before the start of shooting, the idea came to him at 5 a.m. — start with the biggest possible closeup of the eyes, then move to the full body. It works.

The other major challenge was the casting of the Fay Wray role. A dozen actresses were tested, and big names were romanced. Guillermin argued for an unknown — "it would be disaster to cast Barbra Streisand."

One day a model named Jessica Lange came to test. Said the director:

"The kid read the script for 30 seconds and I sent for Dino. 'This is the girl,' I told him."

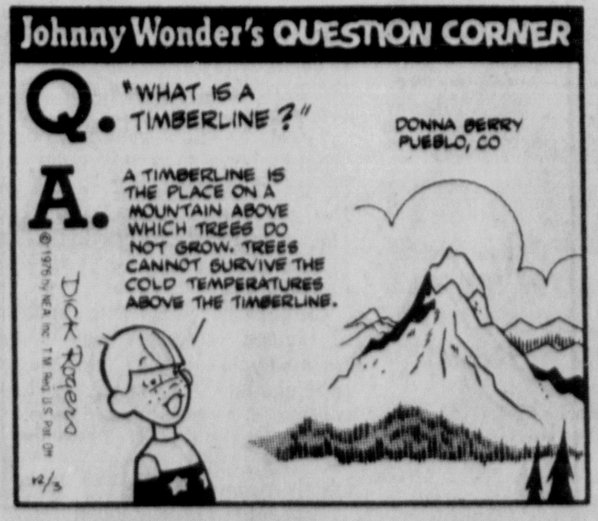
Q. "WHAT IS A TIMBERLINE?" — DONNA BERRY, PUEBLO, CO

A. A TIMBERLINE IS THE PLACE ON A MOUNTAIN ABOVE WHICH TREES DO NOT GROW. TREES CANNOT SURVIVE THE COLD TEMPERATURES ABOVE THE TIMBERLINE.



Some mountains have trees growing clear to their tops, but on many high mountains there is a line above which trees stop growing.

The place where trees stop growing is called the timberline. Trees don't grow above it because they cannot survive the freezing temperatures there.

Above the timberline the mountainside is likely to be a cold desert with only patches of lichens, moss and stunted vegetation twisted by the strong winds of the mountain tops.

Just below the timberline the tall pine forests stand alone. Their tough, needle-shaped leaves can withstand the icy winds and harsh living conditions on the cold mountainside better than the broad-leaf trees can.

The timberline is much higher on some mountains than on others. It depends on the climate, latitude and

GARTH "WOODY" ELLWOOD

St. Lucia's Day is coming next week and Griswold's will mark the occasion with their annual St. Lucia's Breakfasts on successive Sundays, Dec. 12 and 19. I remember last year's observance as a rather festive affair marking the opening of holiday festivities at Griswold's Smorgasbord.

Costumed Lucia maidens will serve Lussenkatter and Pfefferkooker (ginger cookies) to guests of the smorgasbord on those days, enacting an ancient Swedish tradition heralding joy and announcing the return of the sun as the days grow longer after the winter fast.

There may be more spectacular events staged during the hurly-bruly holiday season, granted. But this low keyed little Swedish celebration is a charming bit of entertainment, as tasty as the delicacies from the Griswold bakeries.

Dinner at Dock of the Bay last Saturday evening was a comfortable and delicious experience. Owner Jim Jochinsen knew exactly why I was there. So he seated us where we could get the full benefit of the soothing sounds produced by harpist Priscilla Dennis. Not that the food at Dock of the Bay isn't very good, because I've found that it is. And the service there is more than adequate. But, to me, the dining atmosphere is enhanced by a background of pleasant music. I take this into account in selecting a place to dine.

And, because of this, it just occured to me that I should send my apologies to the chefs in our restaurants. Their obvious importance cannot be over emphasized, but perhaps it's because they have done such a good job in the past that I tend to relegate their importance in my dining out pleasure. I very seldom get a meal that is bad, and certainly not last Saturday night at Dock of the Bay.

Young Bill Schumacher of Pomona pedalled 31 miles during October's third annual bike ride against diabetes, sponsored by McDonald's restaurants, and won a brand new 10-speed bicycle for his efforts. The bike was awarded last Wednesday by Paul Foley, manager of the McDonald's at 2200 No. Garey, Pomona, who said that Bill raised $76.00 for his ride, more than any other rider who started at his store.

More than 200 McDonald's in So. Calif. participated in this year's ride, and the firm anticipates realizing more than $400,000 from this year's event. All collected funds will go to research programs, education, aid to diabetics and their families, and a summer camp for diabetic children.

DELICIOUS HOMEBAKED PIES . . . FRESH DAILY!

About Our Burgers . . .
O'Reilly's has a long-standing reputation as one of the BEST burger restaurants around for a very good reason. Only the finest federally inspected lean beef is ground fresh and pattied in our own kitchen daily to insure quality. That's why we call them old-fashioned . . because they are always fresh, never pre-frozen. YOU'LL TASTE THE DIFFERENCE!

Michael Potter

TV star at Playhouse

Michael Potter, young veteran of numerous television shows and stage productions, will star in Neil Simon's "Come Blow Your Horn," opening at 8 p.m. next Friday at the Claremont Playhouse.

The comedy will play at that hour Thursday through Saturday for several weeks.

Potter will play the part of Alan Baker, swinging older brother in the family. Others in the cast are John Gaglio, Don Ebright, Jillane Brown, Virginia Lind, Joni Young and Fran Bullock.

Potter recently completed a pilot film, "SAM," for Jack Webb's Mark VII Productions. His television credits include Mod Squad, Shaft, Marcus Welby, Police Woman, O'Hara, U.S. Treasury and "Vanished," a four-hour Movie of the Week.

Potter appeared on stage in "Butterflies Are Free," once with June Lockhart and another time with Joan Caulfield; in "Never Too Late," with Gloria DeHaven and Marvin Miller; "Everybody's Girl," with Rose Marie, and in "Sunday in New York," "Barefoot in the Park," "Cactus Flower," "Generation," "Death of a Salesman" and "Picnic." He is a member of Actors Equity Association.

The Claremont Playhouse offers discout rates to clubs and service organizations for fund-raising projects. Information can be obtained at 621-5005.

MICHAEL POTTER

Columbia to release 'Farmer'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Columbia Pictures will release Gary Conway's self-made movie, "The Farmer."

Conway realized the actor's ambition by acquiring financing and producing a vehicle for himself. He filmed "The Farmer" on locations in Georgia with himself, Angel Tompkins, Michael Dante and George Memmoli in the cast. David Berlatsky was the director.

"The Farmer" is a story of a decorated veteran of World War II who returns home to find more conflict in attempting to save his farm.

Black Sea

The Black Sea is bounded by the Soviet Union, Romania, Bulgaria and Turkey.

Thefts cause CBers to take precautions

By INK DIPPER

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Ink Dipper, KYZ-3916, is the handle of the editor of The CB Times-Journal.)

CB radios are becoming more than just little boxes under the dashboard, and the rising crime rate has a lot to do with the new look.

Thefts of CB radios have skyrocketed with the growth of the CB's use. Those little radios are easy to steal in most cases — just pop open the door, turn a couple of screws and out they come.

The same people who made small fortunes stealing stereo tape players five years ago have turned their evil talents to CBs. The rip-offs have forced insurance companies to drop automatic coverage on CBs installed in cars.

In most cases, a car owner has to pay extra for CB coverage and the annual premium can run $25 and more.

A new generation of almost theft-proof CB radios has developed, with two types growing in popularity.

One is installed in the dashboard just like the regular AM radio, and in some cases manufacturers have conbined the AM-FM radio or tape player with the CB for a compact entertainment - communications package.

The other type of new-breed CB comes in two parts. The guts of the radio — the transistors, diodes and wiring — are in a box mounted in the trunk or under the seat. In the passenger compartment is either a control head with volume, squelch and channel knobs or a microphone that has all the controls built-in. Wires connect the two pieces.

Automobile manufacturers are counting heavily on the built-in dashboard models, and they're offering them as options on 1977 cars. The radios come complete with nice gimmicks, including a feature that overrides regular broadcast signals with any strong CB traffic.

The radio, of course, is still in clear view. But it's infinitely harder to remove. A thief would have to dismantle the entire dashboard to remove the radio, and that wouldn't be worth the risk.

The two-part radio is not a new concept. Most commercial two-way radios and mobile telephones come in two parts because the electronic parts are too bulky to place under the dashboard.

It's more trouble to install a two-piece radio, but like the built-in model it's also nearly impossible to steal. The control head would be simple enough to take, but it's no good without the transceiver stuffed away in the trunk.

We've been asked which is the best to buy, and our only reply is that they're both good deals. The standard under-dash models are okay if the owner plans on taking them out every time the car is unattended — including at home. Most people, though, have trouble forming that habit.

The second - generation CBs, of course, are trouble to install unless they're bought in a new car. Installation in either case would cost at least $25 and tie up the car for an hour or more.

And they cost more, too. A two-part radio can cost ten to 25 per cent more than regular units, and the built-in system with an AM-FM combo can often double the price of regular CBs.

But you can see the advantages if you compare that with the cost of buying a second unit after the first is stolen, or paying $35 a year more in insurance premiums for five years.

There will always be a market for under-dash units, but they are becoming one of several alternatives instead of the only game in town. It's a change that can be appreciated by everyone but the professional CB thief.

Lasser completes program

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Successful completion of a six-month drug education program led to dismissal of cocaine possession charges against Louise Lasser, star of television's "Mary Hartman, Mary Hartman" series.

The action was taken Monday by Beverly Hills Municipal Judge Leonard Wolfe, court officials said Tuesday.

Charges against Miss Lasser were prompted by an argument between the actress and the operator of a Beverly Hills boutique, investigators said. Miss Lasser, 35, was arrested May 1.

As she was being booked on outstanding traffic warrants, officers said they discovered a vial containing crystalline white powder in her purse, and the drug charge was added.

The education program, called drug diversion, allows first-time drug offenders to avoid trial.

Prisoner located

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sheriff's deputies at the county jail have ended a 13-hour search by finding a prisoner who disappeared only hours after he was sentenced to life in prison for first-degree murder.

The prisoner was Robert Matthews, 26, of Pasadena, who deputies say hid in an unused portion of the jail infirmary. The area was being refurbished and deputies said they did not know how Matthews got there.

Matthews was convicted of stabbing Joseph Culpepper, 28, of Pasadena last June. According to prosecutors, Matthews stabbed Culpepper because he thought Culpepper had raped Matthews' wife.

Tired Cal Poly cagers head for home

By BILL LANGLEY
PB Sports Editor

MANHATTAN, Kan. — If the Cal Poly basketball team could select its ideal home court, it would probably pick noisy Ahearn Field House here on the Kansas State University campus.

The usual capacity crowd of 10,800, which includes 6,200 students anxious to test their lungs, roared in delight as their team beat the weary Broncos, 87-68, here Thursday night.

It was the fourth loss for Poly on its week-long opening road trip to the heartland of America visiting four major college opponents on their home courts.

Coach Don Hogan wanted his team to get valuable experience on the journey and he certainly got his wish.

"It's hard to get beat like we have the past games but we should gain from this experience," Hogan said. "We were tired tonight and we're anxious to go home."

Playing at K-State was quite an experience.

After playing in three modern, slick arenas, the "old barn" here was quite unique.

The fieldhouse was built in 1950 and was one of the largest in the nation at that time.

Kansas State has automatic sellouts for every home game because all the seats are sold as season tickets.

There are 6,200 student season tickets available and the people here say some of the students even pitch tents outside the fieldhouse to get near the front of the line to have the opportunity of purchasing them.

The students are right on the court and there is a constant roar throughout the game thanks to the pep band, handclapping and organized cheers from all four corners.

Adding to the scene is the spector of almost all fans wearing purple clothing as the Wildcats are also known as Purple Pride.

Since Ahearn was built, K-State has compiled an amazing 245-47 won-loss record and is 59-4 the past four seasons which mostly include tough Big-8 Conference games.

"I would say this crowd is worth 10 points to them," Hogan said. "And they know their role well — when to cheer their team and get after the opponent."

To a man, Poly's team enjoyed the atmosphere.

"It was great," said guard Charles Johnson, who is a native of nearby Missouri. "It didn't bother us at all but it sure helped them even more."

The idea of playing in front of basketball-mad crowds on this trip was a great experience for the Broncos, who now have to get used to the silence in California again.

Hogan is getting to be an expert in evaluating major college teams.

When asked the usual question by reporters here, Hogan replied, "Kansas State is a class better than Dayton, Notre Dame and South Carolina were bigger and more physical, but Kansas State is the fastest team we played without a doubt."

Jack Hartman, the veteran K-State coach, was complimentary about Poly.

"I like this basketball team," Hartman said. "I would sure like to have that tall player (Don Johnson) from Poly. He's active in there."

At least Poly fared better than K-State's two previous victims here this season. Division I opponents Vanderbilt and Arkansas State lost by 23 and 22 here respectively.

It seems that something different went wrong for Poly in every game on this trip. The Broncs couldn't stop Dayton's outside shooting, shot poorly against South Carolina, were outrebounded badly by Notre Dame and couldn't make foul shots here.

The Broncs shot only 49.1 per cent from the charity line in making 10 of 21 tosses and that includes Charles Johnson making all six of his, which means the rest of the team sank only four of 13.

Considering four of the misses came on the first shot of a one-and-one opportunity, it's easy to see how the game could have been tighter with a better showing at the foul line.

Forward Henry Randolph, the JC tranfer from Feather River, had a big night for the Broncs by scoring 14 points in making five of six field goals and grabbing 10 rebounds. Charles Johnson also was in double figures with 12 points.

Freshman Curtis Redding, who led his high school to a perfect 24-0 campaign last year to be named Player of the Year in New York City, came off the bench to lead the Wildcats with 21 points and 11 rebounds while guard Mike Evans, who figures to break the Big-8 Conference career scoring record before he graduates, added 20. Sophomore Keith Frazier, the younger brother of New York Knicks star Walt Frazier, showed his skills in making four of seven field goals.

Poly shot 49.1 per cent while K-State hit on 47.3. The Wildcats enjoyed a 37-31 rebounding edge and Kansas State had only nine turnovers to the Broncs' 19.

K-State had a 10-point lead at halftime and broke the game open by scoring the first six of the second half.

BRONC BUSTERS — Poly returns to Ontario International Airport this afternoon after two long days of flying. Manhattan is not the easiest place to get to.

Hartman coached Walt Frazier at Southern Illinois. His overall coaching record is 409-164. Only Kentucky, UCLA and Notre Dame have played in the NCAA Tournament more than Kansas State, which has been in 12 of the postseason playoffs.

One big reason why basketball is so big here is K-State's 1-10 football season. But the people here say the big reason for that is the problems of playing teams like Nebraska, Oklahoma, Missouri and Colorado every week.

Believe it or not, Poly had some rooters here. Former coach Bob Stull's daughter lives here and gave Hogan a complete scouting report. Another visitor was Tom Rupp, the former Poly track coach, who now runs a carpet store in Salina, Kan.

Report D. Royal to resign

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Darrell Royal plans to resign as University of Texas football coach on Saturday, the Austin American-Statesman said today.

"Let me say I can assure you I have not made a resignation. I have not given a letter of resignation to the president of the University. I have no timetable," Royal told The Associated Press.

Royal was asked three times whether he had consulted with President Lorene Rogers about resigning. He sidestepped the question each time.

Dr. Rogers' secretary said the president's calendar was clear for today but refused to say what it looked like for Saturday.

The American-Statesman quoted "informed sources" as saying he would tell the team of his decision shortly before Saturday's nationally televised (6 p.m., channel 7) game with Arkansas, and announced it to reporters after the game.

"In all truthfulness I have considered resigning for a number of years," The record (4-5-1) this year has nothing to do with it...I don't feel I necessarily have to resign because we have had a bad season. If you stay in long enough, you will have good seasons and bad seasons," Royal said.

Asked what would be a factor, then, in deciding whether to quit as coach, Royal said, "I am not going to get into that."

Royal said nobody has encouraged him to step aside.

"If I have had any encouragement, it has been in the other direction."

Royal has tenure at the university and also holds the athletic director's title. He said remaining as athletic director "would be my wish" if he resigns as football coach.

Vinci resigns as Poly coach

Andy Vinci, the man who appeared to have turned the football program around at Cal Poly, is stepping down as the Broncos' head coach to seek a job at the major college level, it was announced Thursday.

Dr. Robert C. Kramer, president of the university, confirmed that Vinci has decided not to return to Poly next season.

"I am taking this action now," Vinci said, "in order that the university may have the necessary time to seek a replacement.

"I feel in the last three years I have benefited both personally and professionally. I want now to spend my efforts in a full-time coaching and recruiting position."

Vinci came to the Pomona campus in 1974 from the University of San Diego and immediately gave the sagging Bronco football program a new look. His teams posted 5-3-2 and 6-4 records in his first two years at the school, Poly's best grid marks since 1962.

However, this past season the Broncs slipped to a disappointing 3-6-1 ledger, including a last-minute 26-22 loss to arch rival Cal Poly SLO.

Vinci had been increasingly critical of the need for he and his staff to both raise funds and coach the team, and indicated earlier this year that the university had to make a decision as to what direction it wanted its football program to go.

ANDY VINCI . . .
. . . resigns at Poly

Vinci and Dr. Kramer met Monday and the Bronco skipper's decision to leave the school apparently came out of that meeting.

Kramer and Poly Athletic Director Don Warhurst wished Vinci success in furthering his career and expressed their appreciation for the contributions he has made to the Poly football program. Vinci leaves with a 71-18-7 career won-loss coaching mark.

"Andy is a great recruiter and the football team has shown remarkable improvement under his direction," Warhurst noted. Poly played Division I schools Mississippi State and N. Texas State under Vinci's guidance.

Warhurst indicated that Poly is making immediate efforts to secure a replacement for Vinci.

Rams can clinch Saturday but Falcons scare Knox

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rams Coach Chuck Knox, although his team may already be thinking about the playoffs, is trying to leave no stone unturned for Saturday's game against the Atlanta Falcons.

Los Angeles' magic number for its fourth straight National Football Conference West title is one, and either a Rams' victory or a San Francisco 49er loss will put them in the Super Bowl tournament.

Knox, whose Rams face Detroit in the regular-season finale following Atlanta, is hardly taking the Falcons for granted.

"They come here a loose, relaxed, aggressive football team because there is no pressure on them," Knox said of the Falcons.

"This Atlanta team took Dallas apart (17-10), and the Falcons beat San Francisco (21-16). They've come up with a strong running attack with Sonny Collins, Haskell Stanback, Mike Esposito and Bubba Bean," Knox continued.

"And their defense is improved over our first game."

Los Angeles won a 30-13 victory over the Falcons in Atlanta earlier this season, before Marion Campbell was fired as the Falcons' coach and Pat Peppler replaced him.

The Falcons bring a 4—8 record into the contest, but as they proved against the Cowboys and 49ers, they can be extremely dangerous.

Los Angeles is 8-3-1, compared to second-place San Francisco's 7—5 in the NFC West. Only two Ram defeats and two 49er victories in the final two games of the season could keep Los Angeles out of the playoffs.

Knox said he'll go with rookie Pat Haden, the Rhodes Scholar out of the University of Southern California, as his starting quarterback again.

"He's going to get better with experience," Knox said. "He's getting better with each game."

Haden, who took the starting job from James Harris three games ago, has completed 45 of 79 throws for 663 yards and eight touchdowns, and has also shown he can scramble when he has to.

The Rams bring some impressive statistics into the game against the Falcons. They're the top rushing team and also the highest scorers in the NFC, plus ranking first in the conference in defending the rush.

Individually, Monte Jackson's 10 interceptions are the most in the NFL, while Cullen Bryant's 28-yard average on kickoff returns is tops in the conference.

Lawrence McCutcheon, the mainstay of Los Angeles' bruising ground game, ranks third in the NFC in rushing with 1,023 yards behind Walter Payton's 1,158 and Chuck Foreman's 1,035.

A crowd of some 60,000 is expected for the 12:30 PST kickoff, and halftime activities feature the 1951 Rams, who are celebrating the 25th reunion of their NFL championship.

Murtaugh is dead at 59

CHESTER, Pa. (AP) — Danny Murtaugh, who pledged to make his fourth baseball retirement his last so he could devote more time to the grandchildren he loved, is dead at age 59.

Murtaugh, who left the Pittsburgh Pirates just two months ago, slipped into a coma and died Thursday night after suffering a stroke two days earlier.

"In my younger years, I don't think I spent enough time with my children," said the sentimental Irishman when he quit in October.

"I'm going to make it up with my grandchildren."

Murtaugh was stricken at his home in nearby Woodlyn Tuesday and taken to Crozer Chester Medical Center. The stroke was considered serious and his condition steadily deteriorated.

He had a 10-year history of heart trouble and his death followed what he said was a season of very bad health.

His friends in baseball mourned the fact that he would not get the chance to fulfill his retirement dreams: scout ballplayers in the warm and easy sun, smell the roses, and play with his grandchildren.

Moeller is new Illini coach

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Gary Moeller, defensive coordinator to Bo Schembechler at Michigan, today was named head football coach at the University of Illinois.

Moeller, 35, is a former Ohio State star and captained the Buckeyes under Woody Hayes in 1962 and played on the 1961 team which won the Big Ten Conference championship.

Moeller succeeds Bob Blackman, who was fired after a six-year term in which he fashioned an over-all record of 29-36-1 and a Big Ten mark of 24-23-1. Illinois was 5-6 this season and 4-4 in the Big Ten.

Sandoval KO's foe for 15th straight

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Undefeated Alberto Sandoval, 117½ pounds, of Pomona, scored his 15th victory with a fifth-round knockout over Jose del Rio, 119, of Mexico City Thursday night. It was Sandoval's 10th win by knockout.

Del Rio went down from a short, potent left hook and was counted out in 2:06 of the round. He made a game attempt to get up after the punch put him flat on his back, but fell on his face.

Del Rio took another trip to the canvas from a left hook in the first round and had to take a mandatory eight-count. Sandoval landed the punch toward the end of the round, so del Rio had some time to recuperate.

Sandoval took the second, third and the fourth rounds, keeping his opponent in considerable trouble. It was in the fifth when del Rio seemed to have a chance of making an uphill fight that Sandoval exploded the big punch.

Del Rio had scored 24 victories, and now has lost nine. He had 14 knockout wins.

Kings, Habs play 3-3 tie

MONTREAL (AP) — Steve Shutt continues his remarkable average of one goal per game for the Montreal Canadiens.

Shutt's latest performance— his 27th goal of the season in his 27th game—gave the Canadiens a 3-3 tie with the Los Angeles Kings Thursday night in a National Hockey League game.

Los Angeles was content to carry the puck across the red line and dump it into the Montreal zone in an attempt to gain a victory in the third period, but the Canadiens kept attacking, firing 19 shots, the last of which Shutt rapped past goalie Gary Edwards with 40 seconds left.

Shutt's goal came on a rebound, after Jacques Lemaire and Pete Mahovlich had missed good chances.

Shutt said the Kings, under Coach Bob Pulford, formerly of Toronto, played like the old Maple Leafs teams under Punch Imlach 15 years ago.

"They're a very defensive team anyway, but they were really playing it close with the lead. Their wings wouldn't flare in—as soon as they lost the puck, they'd go straight back to their blueline," said Shutt, the NHL's leading goal scorer.

The Kings, who were outshot 43-20 over-all, are winless in their last 13 games, with seven losses and six ties. They trail the first-place Canadiens by 17 points in the Norris Division.

Damien High and San Dimas High continue their quests for CIF football titles tonight in what should be two very different types of games.

San Dimas (10-1) and Agoura (8-3), two hard-running teams that seldom throw the ball, will meet at Thousand Oaks High while Damien (9-1) and Villa Park (10-1), two squads that balance their ground and air attacks, square off at El Modena High in Orange. Both games will begin at 8 p.m.

To reach Thousand Oaks High, take Moorpark Road north off the Ventura Freeway. (Do not take Moorpark Freeway.) The stadium is about a mile north of the freeway.

To reach El Modena High, take the Orange Freeway (57) south to the Riverside Freeway (91), east to the Newport Freeway (55), south to Champman Avenue, east to El Modena's Jack Kelly Field.

Two of the premier runners in the CIF will highlight the action when San Dimas and Agoura do battle in their 2A quarterfinal playoff game.

Agoura's Darren Rogers rushed for 1,800 yards and 25 touchdowns to lead the Chargers to the 2A semifinals last year, named CIF 2A co-Player of the Year as a junior.

Rogers has gained 1,494 yards on the ground and scored 15 touchdowns through 11 games this year.

The Saints' Bob Pleasant, meanwhile, has scored 19 touchdowns while rushing for 1,400 yards.

But while Agoura's offense is pretty much a one-man show, coach Bob Baiz has as balanced a running attack as he could desire at San Dimas.

Junior halfback Perry Aris has complemented fullback Pleasant's running with 911 yards and 11 touchdowns of his own, and quarterback Don Hargett has chipped in with 442 yards on the ground and eight TDs.

Needless to say, with runners like those, neither team passes more than it has to. Hargett has attempted fewer than seven passes per game and Agoura signal caller Robin Gabriel (son of former Los Angeles Ram quarterback Roman Gabriel) has averaged about eight.

The Saints have a clear edge on defense. While the San Dimas crew has allowed only 84 points in 11 games, Agoura allowed nearly half that number in a single contest (a 43-16 loss to Rio Mesa). The Chargers tied Rio Mesa for second place in the Frontier League behind Channel Islands.

San Dimas' defensive corps is led by Hacienda League Player of the Year Sonny LaFargue as well as all-league first-teamers Keith Smith, Doug Gates, Mike Nunley and Aris.

The Saints have beaten Indio, 55-13, and Northview, 26-19, in the first two playoff rounds while the Chargers have topped Paraclete, 42-6, and Verbum Dei, 22-8.

Next in store for the winner of the San Dimas-Agoura game will be a semifinal contest with either Esperanza or top-seeded Antelope Valley.

While the Saints have relied almost exclusively on their ground game to produce points, Dick Larson's Damien squad goes to the air for much of its yardage.

Junior quarterback Dan Marconi, Damien's single-season record holder for passing yardage (1,698), connected on 18 of 26 passes for 361 yards last week in the Spartans' 45-29 comeback win over Riverside Poly.

Marconi is aided by a solid offensive line, three good running backs (Leo Burke, Jason Wight and Doug Paul) and some fine receivers (split ends Tom Lopez and John Davis, tight end Pete Fox and backs Burke and Wight).

In their quarterfinal match with Villa Park, the Century League champion, the Spartans will be up against a truly all-purpose player in Robbie Martin.

Martin is the player who makes the Villa Park offense go. Playing from a slotback position, the 5-foot-10, 175-pounder has about 800 yards rushing and 600 receiving and has scored 18 touchdowns.

But he can do much more than run and catch. In last week's 36-7 win over Pacifica, for example, Martin threw a halfback-option pass to Todd Litman for a 70 yard touchdown. And on Pacifica's next possession, he intercepted a pass and ran it back 56 yards for another TD!

Villa Park is also very tough on defense. In its last four games (including two playoffs), the Orange County school has surrendered just 21 points.

In the first round of the playoffs, Villa Park downed Monte Vista, 33-7, while Damien knocked off Mark Keppel, 29-12.

The winner of tonight's game will face either Lompoc or defending champion and top-ranked South Pasadena next week in a 3A semifinal game.

Wildcats get moving

By The Associated Press

It took Arizona's basketball team a while to get moving, but once the Wildcats began hitting, they were on their way.

Phil Taylor and Herman Harris combined for 45 points Thursday as the 11th-ranked Wildcats rallied from a slow start to whip Oregon State 81-73 in a nonconference college basketball game.

In other Thursday games involving West Coast teams, Wisconsin whipped St. Mary's 82-76, Loyola of Los Angeles beat UC-Santa Barbara 65-63, and Fresno State outlasted Boise State 74-68.

Oregon State's tough 2-3 zone defense held Arizona without a field goal for almost 10 minutes in the first half and the contest was tied at 21-21 with 10 minutes left before intermission.

But the unbeaten Wildcats reeled off a 19-4 point spree in the next seven minutes to take a 40-25 lead and were never headed after that as they won their third game of the season. The final margin was as close as the Beavers got in the second half.

Steve Johnson, Oregon State's 6-foot-10 freshman, hit 14 of 16 field goal tries. He led all scorers with 28 points, even though he played only 27 minutes because he was in early foul trouble.

Wisconsin, 1-1, toyed with underdog St. Mary's through most of the game at Madison, Wis., then hung on in the final minutes.

The Badgers saw their sevenpoint halftime lead dwindle to a point when the Gaels' Nick Pappageorge hit a bucket midway through the last half for a 61-60 score. But Wisconson rallied for two baskets and a pair of free throws that evened St. Mary's at 1-1.

Pappageorge led St. Mary's with 20 points and Rick Bernard added 18. James Gregory had 23 for Wisconsin.

Bill Neu scored 18 points as unbeaten Loyola won its third game for its best start since 1957. Loyola led most of the way against UCSB, 1-2. Andy Oliveira led the Gauchos with 18 points.

David Wear scored 18 points and Ken Barnes added 14 in Fresno State's win. Barnes scored a crucial bucket on a slam dunk with 10 seconds left that iced the win for Fresno, 30. Boise is 0-4.

Tonight, the University of San Francisco plays the University of California, Washington is at Wake Forest, Washington State hosts Gonzaga, and San Diego State and Oregon play in the Sun Devil Classic at Tempe, Ariz.

Webb falls

PASADENA — Webb School was overpowered, 72-28, by the host in the Pasadena Poly Tournament Thursday night.

Brad Baldridge, a preseason all-America honorable mention recipient in Prep Sports Magazine, led Poly with 20 points and 6-foot-5 center Max Pray added 19.

Webb was led by Chris Carpenter (eight points), Steve Galvan (six) and Kerry Tims (five) but was badly outrebounded.

The Gauls will meet Whittier Christian at 6 p.m. today in the consolation bracket.

Chino cagers drop opener

SAN DIEGO — Chino High lost its season opener and its opening game in the Valhalla-Helix Tourney here Thursday night by a 73-57 score to Helix High.

Helix jumped to a 28-15 lead after one quarter and the Cowboys never threatened thereafter. Helix's 6-9 center, Mark Spow, led all scorers with 20 points.

Guard Joe Pickens paced Chino with 15 markers. Chino will play Sweetwater today at 3 p.m. in the consolation bracket of the tourney.

Club offers safety class

The Pomona Elks' Junior Rifle Club will offer a course in firearms safety Saturday morning at the Pomona Police Training Center, located off of Humane Way.

The course will begin at 9 a.m. Saturday. It is open to youths age 9 and older, and parents are most welcome to visit during the two-hour sessions. The course will last for five Saturdays.

For further information, call Lynn Dotson at (714) 624-1761.

Sports briefs

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former UCLA basketball Coach John Wooden has been hospitalized with a flareup of the artery condition that forced him into a hospital four years ago.

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Betty Stove of The Netherlands beat Evonne Goolagong of Australia 7-6, 6-4 and Martina Navratilova of Czechoslovakia defeated Margaret Court of Australia 6-3 6-4 Friday in quarterfinal matches of a $100,000 women's international tennis tournament.

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP) — Bill Battle, who resigned last week as head football coach of the University of Tennessee, will accept the head coaching job at Purdue University within the next few days, The Huntsville News reported Thursday.

SYDNEY, Australia — Second-seeded Martina Navratilova advanced to the quarter-finals of a $100,000 tournament with a 6-2, 6-4 victory over Ilana Kloss of South Africa.

DETROIT — Joey Berardi of Pearl River, N.Y. took an 18-pin lead over Wayne Zahn, Tempe, Ariz., in the $100,000 Grand Prix of Bowling.

Norton, Lyle sign to fight

NEW YORK (AP) — Ken Norton has signed to meet Ron Lyle in a heavyweight bout in February, clearing the decks for unbeaten Duane Bobick to fight heavyweight champion Muhammad Ali at Madison Square Garden.

Bobick had been slated to meet Norton in the Garden Feb. 28, but Norton's managers have said he would step aside if Bobick had a chance to fight Ali for the title.

Garden spokesmen had no comment on the situation Thirsday, saying only that a news conference has been scheduled for Monday to make "an important" boxing announcement.

An Ali-Bobick fight certainly would fit the bill, and Norton's signing to meet Lyle removed the major obstacle in the path of that bout.

Dick Kennedy of Lyle Enterprises, the Denver fighter's corporate entity, said the contract signed in New York Thursday guarantees Lyle more than $100,000 and Norton $500,000. The site and exact date will be set later, Kennedy said, but it is presumed it will be part of a closed-circuit doubleheader with Ali-Bobick.

The $500,000 figure for Norton is significant, since that was the amount he was to receive for fighting Bobick.

Owls win tourney opener

By TIM CLARK
PB Correspondent

Citrus College capped the first round of its own Don Edwards Memorial Basketball Tournament Thursday night by recording the biggest rout of the day, an 83-60 laugher over Barstow.

The surprising Owls (now 3-0 on the young season), will now face Grossmont, a big 74-61 upset winner over East L.A. in the game preceding the Citrus-Barstow contest. The semifinal match will get underway at 9 tonight. If the Owls can down Grossmont, it will mark the first time that Citrus will appear in the championship game of its own Don Edwards tourney.

In other first round tournament action, defending champion Cypress easily handled Pasadena City College, 60-45; and Cerritos came out on top in the thriller of the day with a 73-68 decsion over Laney.

"Yes, it was nice to have such an easy one in the first game of your own tournament," smiled Owl skipper Neil Edwards. "It's good for our momentum, and we also got to try out some various defenses that we haven't used yet this year. Tomorrow's (tonight) game will tell us just how good we are. It was kind of surprising to see Grossmont come on to win (East L.A. led at the half, 31-28), but they have some very fine players."

The Owls indeed have the nucleaus for a very good season, with their roster assorted with former high school All-CIF and All-League performers.

One familiar name for valley fans is Owl forward Mike Wetenkamp, the leading scorer in the valley last year from Damien who is now tossing in his rainbows (7-12 Thursday night) in a Citrus uniform. Starting guards Danny Wilson and Derrick Thomas both hail from Pomona high. Milton Banks, who played last year at Garey, came off the bench to score eight points.

Citrus center Eric Childs was All-CIF at Monrovia and slamed home 14 points and picked off 11 rebounds in limited playing time. Mike Moses (Charter Oak) and Bill Rutz (San Marino) are also former All-CIF stars, and combined for 16 points and 11 rebounds.

As a team Citrus shot a cool 51 per cent from the floor (37-72), and totaled 58 rebounds. Barstow could only muster 33 per cent and 36, respectively. If anything, the game was a good defensive show, with Citrus forcing the Vikings to turn over the ball 26 times, while the Owls were responsible for 28 turn overs themselves.

"I really believe that we'll have a good winning record this year," said Edwards. "This is really a close group of kids, they all know that they'll get their chance to play. The attitude on this team is just excellent."

Grossmont, Citrus' foe tonight, had five players hit double figures in the come-from-behind win over East L. A. Guards Ed Newell and Ruben Ray topped the bunch with 16 points apiece, combining to connect on 14 of 23 shots.

Bassett dominates boards to overpower San Dimas

By PAUL CLICK
PB Correspondent

Board play was a key factor in Thursday night's contest at San Dimas High as Bassett rolled to a 71-54 triumph. The Saints' record dropped to 0-2 on the young season.

San Dimas fell behind 37-31 at halftime as Bassett dominated the boards by outrebounding the Saints, 21-9. Bassett sent all five men to the boards as San Dimas failed to box out its opponents.

Bassett added 16 more caroms to its total in the third quarter in which they outscored San Dimas by seven points to increase the lead to, 56-43. Bassett concluded the evening with 46 board while San Dimas hauled down 27 caroms.

Without the boards, San Dimas didn't get as many chances to put the ball through the hoop. Bassett, in control of the boards, was able to get down the court quickly and set up its offense before the San Dimas defense got into position.

Center Mark Klein and forward Mike MacDonald each pulled down nine caroms apiece for the Saints.

"We really played well tonight and we simply out hustled them," noted Bassett's Ted Nickell. "Defensively we wore San Dimas down and we did want we wanted to on offense by taking only good percentage shots."

Bassett put up 10 more shots than the Saints as the Olympians hit on 28 of 57 shots. However, many of their shots were long range bombs while San Dimas worked its way to the hoop for close range shots. The Saints hit 44 percent of their shots.

After a ragged beginning, the Saints began to work their way in for some layups. However, they were forced to shoot one shot at a time as they found rebounds very scarce. Also, the Saints were hurt by early foul trouble.

Vern Cofield picked up three early fouls and Bassett began setting up a picket line at the free throw line. But San Dimas shooters were also presented with numerous free throw tosses.

Bassett connected on 15 of 23 tries while San Dimas made only 11 of 21 charity tosses.

Klein was San Dimas' top scorer with 17 points followed by teammates Ken Muraki (12) and MacDonald (10).

Bassett scoring attack was paced by Kevin Longager (19 points and Mike Rose (14).

Lugo hears Ricky Bell

Southern Cal running back Ricky Bell was the featured guest Wednesday night at the Don Lugo High football awards banquet at the Diamond Bar Country Club.

All members of the Don Lugo football squad, which won the San Antonio League freshman title this fall, were presented awards by coach John Monger.

The Q's will play a CIF 1A free-lance schedule next fall, as the Chino school will have sophomores for the first time in its brief history.

Cal Baptist beats C-M

Cal Baptist sent Claremont-Mudd's basketball team into the consolation bracket of the Redlands Tournament with an 84-68 win over the Stags Thursday night.

C-M was slated to play Norton Air Force Base today at 2:30 p.m. The Norton team lost to USIU, 93-69, Thursday, while host Redlands dumped L.A. Baptist, 92-58, and Azusa Pacific beat Hastings College, 68-63.

C-M center Ron Kasdorf was the game's leading scorer (19 points) and rebounder (11) and teammate Mark Sunderland added 11 points, but Cal Baptist's Stan Oldham (15), James Morbley (14) and Charles Wiley (12) were too much for the Stags.

The Stags (0-2) outrebounded Cal Baptist, 49-43, but made just 38 per cent of their shots to the winners' 51 per cent.

HERE'S "THE AN$WER."

You asked for a car to meet today's needs.
You got it. "The Answer."
A special Corolla from Toyota.
A car built Toyota tough to meet the demands for high gas mileage and a low price. That's "The Answer." High mileage and the lowest price in America. Based on a comparison of manufacturers' suggested retail prices, not including tax, license, transportation charges, emission, and optional equipment.

Lowest priced car in America. That's "The Answer." A new car that costs less than many used cars. And "The Answer" gives you something no one else can—unbeatable Toyota toughness at an unbeatable tough price.
High gas mileage. That's "The Answer." Gas mileage few can match. Mileage you expect from Toyota. In 1977 EPA tests "The Answer" got 38 mpg on the highway, 26 in the city. These ratings with a 1.6 liter engine are estimates. The actual mileage you get will vary depending on your driving habits and your car's condition and equipment.
How did Toyota come up with "The Answer"? We started with the durable, proven Corolla and eliminated some of the luxury features. But we didn't touch the car's quality. You'll still find things like welded unitized-body construction, steel guard door reenforcements and McPherson Strut front suspensic... This special car became "The Answer." A car that's inexpensive, not cheap.

Master Bedroom

Now is your chance to get a complete bedroom set for only '299! Included in this fantastic offer are a dresser, mirror, full or queen size headboard and night stand. Choose from the three exciting suites pictured here.

5 MAJOR PIECES

- Dresser
- Mirror
- Night Stands
- Full or Queen Headboard

The "Espadante II" is the classically lovely styling of traditional charm. A master bedroom that is assured to please those with chic and sophisticated tastes. The clean classic lines are beautifully expressed in a hand rubbed antique hickory finish. Eye catching authentic reproductions of original hand carvings enhance the look.

5 Pc. Mediterranean Show Piece

- Queen Headboard • Dresser
- Mirror • 5 Drawer Chest • Night Stands

Accented drawer fronts and heavy brass pulls compliment this boldly designed master bedroom group. Down to earth Spanish styling at a price you can afford.

5 MAJOR PIECES

- Full or Queen Headboard
- Dresser • Mirror • Night Stands
